Yank Says He Has Had Fill of Reds

Virginia Hill Country Corporal Decides He Would Come Back to Countrymen

Panmunjom, Oct. 21 (AP)—A corporal from Virginia's mountain country—the first of 23 unrepatriated American war prisoners to quit communism—said today "I had enough" of life under the Reds.

Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, a 25-year-old former farmer from Big Stone Gap, Va., said it was "more than likely" some of the other Americans who spurned a chance to return home would change their minds.

"Communism is not my belief," he told a news conference. "I have my own beliefs."

Dickenson, whose parents live in a remote cabin high in the Allegheny Mountains, returned to the allies of his own free will.

Rushed to a hospital near Seoul, he told newsmen he had contemplated returning for quite a while.

Refuses Answers

The young soldier flatly refused to answer questions that would have shed light on why he or the other Americans chose to remain with the Reds.

"I can't answer that . . . I don't know what them (the 22 others) want to do . . ."

Dickenson, appearing slightly bewildered and choosing his words carefully, asked after about 10 minutes that the interview be halted. Then he agreed to a brief appearance before newsreel and television cameras.

He said he had not been briefed by army officers before meeting with newsmen . . . the decision not to answer questions was his own.

In contrast to his appearance before the newsmen, Dickenson was smiling and seemed in good spirits when he was transferred to allied control earlier today at Panmunjom.

'Sure Feels Great'

"It sure feels great to be back in the hands of the Americans," Dickenson grinned to newsmen at the short transfer ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Van Buren Dickenson were joyous. His mother told a newsman, "Well thank God . . . I knew he was coming home if they'd let him."

"If you can," she told the reporter, "I wish you would get a word to him—tell him nobody hereabouts thinks hard of him for what he done, and we will all give him a big welcome home. Ain't no hard feelings on our part."

Dickenson was one of 23 Americans, one Briton and 335 South Koreans the Reds said refused repatriation to remain under Communist rule.

Dickenson changed his mind with no coaxing. The UN command has not started efforts to persuade balky former Allied soldiers to return.

Explanations Canceled

The Communist explanations to 22,400 North Korean and Chinese POWs, meanwhile, were canceled again Thursday for the fourth straight day.

The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, which has custody of the balky POWs, made the announcement without details.

Delegates from all five nations making up the commission sat in on the meeting and quickly validated the return of Dickinson.

It was the first time Polish and Czech members had attended since they walked out of a stormy session Monday. They walked out after the other three members of the commission rejected a demand that prisoners be forced to listen to Communist persuaders.

The Indian command said the touchy problem of getting defiant North Korean POWs to meet with Communist explainers may be settled Friday.

Farm Issue Needs Time, He Declares

Tells News Conference He Thinks Ranchers, Farmers Are Taking Problems in Stride

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower today voiced full confidence in Secretary of Agriculture Benson who has come under fire from some Congress members.

Eisenhower also told a news conference he believed the nation's cattlemen and farmers are taking their current problems in stride and are not as upset about them as some politicians are.

The President said he is not going to be critical of his secretary of agriculture because Benson has not yet produced a quick solution of the farm problem.

His statements came when he was asked about assertions by Sen. Young (R.-N.D.) that Benson should resign because, Young said, the cabinet member had "lost the confidence of the farmers."

Up to President

Eisenhower said he thinks it is up to the President to decide who should be his principal advisors in each field of government.

And he declared he has seen no one more dedicated than Benson to working out the problem of the conflict between producers and consumers.

Eisenhower declined, with a laugh, to say whether he thought discontent over administration farm policies was the chief factor in the recent election of a Democrat to Congress from a normally Republican congressional district in Wisconsin.

The Chief Executive was in a buoyant mood and touched a wide range of subjects in his news conference.

Among Other Things

He said among other things:

1. He does not plan to take any part on the state or local level in next year's congressional elections but hopes he can help the Republican party by trying to establish policies which the overwhelming majority of Americans approve.

2. On the subject of Cpl. Edward S. Dickerson, the soldier who changed his mind about remaining in Communist hands—considering the intense indoctrination to which American prisoners were subjected — he sometimes wonders there weren't more who elected to stay behind.

3. He does not know whether it would be possible to sell the Tennessee Valley Administration (TVA) to private industry without wrecking the entire system. He had been asked to comment on the statement by Clarence Manion, head of a commission studying federal-state relations, that TVA never should have been built and ought to be sold by the Federal Government.

Firm Yes on Israel

4. On Israel, he replied with a firm yes, but did not elaborate, when asked if he had discussed with Secretary of State Dulles the cutting off of economic aid to that country.

Dulles announced yesterday the United States is withholding further aid because Israel will not accept a UN ruling as to diversion of Jordan river water.

Mainly, today's news conference centered on the drouth, falling farm prices and related matters with which the President concerned himself during his recent visit to the mid-west and his swing to the Rio Grande.

The President did say, in another connection, however, that while the general cost of living has continued to rise it is levelling off to a considerably greater extent than in recent years.

Eisenhower appeared momentarily taken aback, but then laughed, when a reporter (Joseph A. Fox of the Washington Star) asked him point blank what he thought of Senator Young's statement that Benson should resign.

In Serious Vein

Speaking in a highly serious vein, the President said he believes it is his own responsibility to decide who his principal advisors are going to be.

He went on to say he knows no one more dedicated than the agriculture secretary to American principles.

Moreover, Eisenhower said, he knows of no one more anxious to get a fair treatment for consumers and producers alike. And, Eisenhower declared, just because Benson can't produce a miraculous cure for farm problems he, for

SGT. DONALD J. MOXHAM

A romance which began almost a year ago while they stood in line for a movie in England, is scheduled to reach its climax—that of the trip to the altar—when Sgt. Donald J. Moxham, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Moxham, 7 Rogers street, this city, and Miss Pamela Soar of Hompton, England, are reunited on Thursday, Oct. 29.

That's the date when Miss Soar, a 21-year-old English beauty queen, suffering from a serious illness, is scheduled to arrive in New York aboard the Greek liner, Olympia, from Southampton, England.

Today, Mrs. Moxham, mother of the local soldier, confirmed the report that Miss Soar had sailed for the U. S. and that the two would be married within a short time.

To Wed at St. Mary's

As far as the marriage rites are concerned, Mrs. Moxham told The Freeman today that her son and his English bride-to-be are scheduled to become man and wife within three weeks after Miss Soar arrives in this country. "They will be married in St. Mary's Church, this city," Mrs. Moxham said this morning.

She related that her son would arrive home in Kingston Friday from Westover Field, Mass., where he is now stationed, to begin a three-week furlough. Following their marriage in Kingston, the couple will make their residence at Westover Field.

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Southhampton today, Miss Soar is troubled with Bright's disease; a kidney ailment, and must live a quiet life. "She's got to live a very quiet life," Mrs. Ann Soar of Hompton, told a British reporter. He's a very quiet boy and will be good for her," Mrs. Soar said.

President Says Costs Of Living Are Less

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today increases in the cost of living are flattening out.

He told his news conference that although the cost of living has reached a peak, the important thing is that price increases have been much lower in the nine months of his administration than in previous years.

The President said the increase in the cost of living level thus far this year has been less than one percentage point, as compared with average increases of three points or more in previous years.

Brogan Body May Be That in River

Check Is Made at Hospital of Corpse; Same in Some Respects

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—The body of a drowned man was found floating off a North river pier today, and police said it might be Michael Brogan, missing dock boss.

Brogan's disappearance last Sept. 29 came in the midst of a bitter and still continuing union feud on the waterfront.

The missing man reportedly supported the new AFL Dock Union, which is being opposed by the old International Longshoremen's Association recently ousted from the AFL.

The ILA was accused by the parent union of harboring criminal elements, and refusing to get rid of underworld influences.

The office of the chief of detectives said the floating body, from outward appearances, might be that of Brogan, but that its condition was such that immediate identification could not be positive.

It was taken to Bellevue Hospital for further examination.

Friends of Brogan, an assistant hiring boss, have feared he met with foul play. He was last seen on Pier 32 on Sept 29. It was just off this same pier the body was found.

Brogan, 50, a medium man weighing 150 pounds, was partly

Sheriff's Aides Given Instruction By FBI at Range

Firing line instruction and practice for all members of the Ulster County Sheriff's Department began Tuesday afternoon at the Kingston Rifle and Pistol Club range near Sawkill.

The men are attending an FBI small arms school, conducted by Charles Smith and John Dunday, FBI firearms instructors. Arrangements for the week-long school were made through Sheriff Cluett Schantz.

Sessions are repeated morning and afternoon, so that the day shift men can be split between attending class and providing necessary manpower in the sheriff's office.

The school began Monday afternoon with lectures on safety and handling of firearms. Range work, in which safety is also stressed, includes target shooting and such specialized police work knowledge as hip shooting, point-shoulder shooting, and firing from prone and kneeling positions.

Most of the sheriff's department men are attending the school on their off-duty time.

Seeks Public Defenders

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell says he will ask Congress to provide paid public defenders in federal district courts throughout the nation. Brownell spoke last night at the closing session of the 22nd annual New York Herald Tribune Forum. He said his proposal for public defenders, to go before the next session of Congress, is part of a two-prong attack to enforce "vigorously and impartially . . . federal laws against subversion and crime and . . . to use every opportunity to strengthen and improve our federal system of justice . . ."

General Will Remain

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, just back from a Korean war prisoner camp, said today that his immediate plans are to remain in the army and try to find what has happened to the men of his division still listed as missing. Gen. Dean talked with reporters after a breakfast meeting with President Eisenhower. He said he had about 150 letters from wives and mothers of missing GI's of the 24th Infantry Division asking that he help clear up whether they are still alive.

Injunction Bars Stevedore Strike To Christmas Eve

Restraining Order Extends Full 80 Days; Beck Sees Violence as Due to Come

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—A Federal Court injunction, extended to the full 80 days permitted by the Taft-Hartley Labor Law, today barred any Atlantic coast longshoremen's strike until Christmas Eve.

The original injunction, which was to have expired last night, brought an end to a five-day walkout from Maine to Virginia by members of the International Longshoremen's Association.

Federal Judge Edward Weinfeld extended the restraining order in an action yesterday.

He had granted the original temporary order after President Eisenhower made his first use of the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Law. The strike had cost shippers an estimated 1½ million dollars daily. A wage-contract dispute was involved.

Weinfeld, meanwhile, reserved decision on a government motion to have the injunction apply to the AFL pier union, the ILA-AFL. He said he would make his decision by Sunday evening.

Old Union Expelled

The AFL recently expelled the old ILA for failing to rid itself of racketeering elements. The federation then chartered the new ILA-AFL, which has since been locked in a struggle with the ILA for the allegiance of 60,000 east coast longshoremen.

Although the ILA-AFL was not involved in the wage-contract dispute which caused the strike, the government contends it should be included in the injunction because it has applied to the National Labor Relations Board for certification as waterfront bargaining agent. The government says this makes the AFL union "an interested party."

The ILA-AFL says it had no connection with the strike early this month. The AFL group did not apply to the NLRB until after the strike started.

ILA negotiators had sought a 13-cent-an-hour wage and welfare package. The New York Shipping Association, representing 170 shipping and stevedoring firms, offered 8½ cents. The present basic wage rate is $2.27.

Beck Sees Trouble Ahead

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—Dave Beck, president of the AFL Teamsters Union, says that "men may be killed" cleaning up the New York waterfront.

Beck is one of five AFL officials setting up a new longshoremen's union rivaling the one expelled by the federation on grounds of failing to rid itself of racketeers.

He referred to the danger of the job yesterday in a talk to the National Press Club.

Beck also said the influence of labor unions with the Eisenhower administration is weak in comparison with that of business and farmers, and that organized labor may be "driven" into a political party of its own if "the present trend of conditions continues."

Stang Opens His Drive for Election

GOP Candidate for Mayor Outlines Some Policies He Would Follow

Frederick H. Stang, Republican candidate for mayor of Kingston, opened his campaign last evening with a talk given before a group of Republicans.

In his opening campaign talk Stang outlined some of the policies which he intends to put into effect when elected to the office of mayor. He was introduced by N. LeVan Haver, Republican City Chairman.

Stang called attention to the election every two years of a mayor, alderman-at-large, city judge and an alderman and supervisor from each of the thirteen wards of the city.

After expressing his "sense of elation at having been selected as my party's choice for this important office," he commented upon his interest in government.

Interested in government from the town and county level, Stang said he felt he had a good working knowledge of government. He has served as an official of the town of Shawangunk, as clerk of the board of supervisors and is presently county attorney.

Has Studied Government

Since his nomination for the position of mayor of Kingston, Stang said he had made it his business to more closely study the government of the city and to inspect its various departments and familiarize himself with their operation. City government he said has been well managed and he said he felt he could approach the office of mayor of the city fitted with a background

Colonial Gardens Work to Cost $34,571; Proposals Came Up Oct. 6

The Common Council at a recessed meeting last night, authorized bond issues of $34,571.48 for street work in Colonial Gardens and $4,765 to cover the cost of storm water and sanitary sewer work on Broadway between East Chestnut street and Delaware avenue.

Both proposals were introduced at the council's regular meeting Oct. 6.

First Ward Alderman Hirschell Mayes submitted a partial report as chairman of the railroad and bus committee on proposals for better protection at the Ten Broeck avenue railroad crossing, stating that one proposal is already under consideration by railroad officials.

Partial Report Made

Mayes said S. J. Keating, division superintendent of tracks of the West Shore railroad, had been notified and referred the proposal to a higher official, and said Keating would report back to the railroad and bus committee specifically on the request of Alderman Benjamin Storms, second ward, that the crossing be "manned" for 24 hours.

Alderman-at-large Kelly thanked Mayes and the committee for prompt action on the proposals made at the Oct. 6 meeting, and for the partial report made last night.

A proposal of prayer to save the world from war made by Samuel D. Scudder, Jr., in a letter, was referred to the laws and rules committee.

Scudder quoted from "Brass Tacks," a publication of the U. S. Savings & Loan League Directors Digest, Blackwell, Okla., which

Tallamy Calls 'Ridiculous' Inference Track Had Anything to Do With Thruway Route

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Bertram D. Tallamy, chairman of the State Thruway Authority, says any inference that Yonkers Raceway "had anything to do with the location of the Thruway or its being toll-free is ridiculous."

Tallamy notes that state law provides that the section of the Thruway from Tuckahoe road in Yonkers to the New York city line in the Bronx—7.3 miles—must be toll-free. Thus, it will cost nothing to drive to the Raceway from the city, where a bulk of the patrons come from.

He also rejects any charge that the Thruway route was "looped" through suburban Yonkers—allegedly at greatly increased construction costs—to conduct traffic to the Raceway.

Tallamy made his defense of the Yonkers aspects of the uncompleted Thruway at Albany yesterday after the Thruway committee of the Roman Catholic Church of St. John the Baptist, Yonkers, had sent a telegram to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

The church group asked Dewey to have his harness track probers "investigate the proposed free section of the . . . Thruway which is within the city of Yonkers to determine if the choice of Central Park avenue was not motivated by other reasons than the public convenience . . ."

Tallamy denied in his statement that raceway officials had influenced the choice of the Yonkers route of the New York city-Buffalo superhighway.

He said that although the alignment of the Thruway through Yonkers is not specified by law, there is a legal provision that construction be started at the northerly terminus of the Major Deegan expressway in the Bronx. Central Park avenue runs into the expressway.

Although some Yonkers civic groups have contended it would be cheaper to run the Thruway through Tibbetts Brook Park, about one half mile west of the present route, Tallamy denied the suggested alternate route is more feasible. He said the Tibbetts Brook Park valley has a high ridge that would require construction of an expensive tunnel if that route were used for the Thruway.

Dewey's Albany office said he would give no immediate comment on the church group's request for an investigation.

The Yonkers Trotting Assn., which conducts races at the Raceway, said in a statement last night that it "does not want and never has wanted the Thruway on Central (Park) avenue." The association also said:

"The Central (Park) avenue route necessarily would deprive the Raceway of valuable, badly needed parking space. It would seriously complicate, if not throttle, access and egress of auto and pedestrian traffic at the Raceway. It would bring a major highway too close to the racing strip."

The association added that it "felt it could not properly take a position against what appeared to be the set policy of the state in fixing a thruway route."

Citizen groups in Yonkers have contended that 12 million dollars

Soviet Move Hits America; Negroes Used as Guinea Pigs

Moscow, Oct. 21—A new Soviet color movie portraying American businessmen and generals as attempting to use six Negroes as human guinea pigs in testing a fearful secret war weapon is now playing to packed houses in many Moscow theatres.

The strongly anti-American film, which opened here this week, is entitled "Silver Dust." It gives the impression that only "progressives" in the United States oppose the machinations of evil persons. The heroes are those who sympathize with a Negro character who announces he is a Communist.

The movie opens with two American generals representing the "trust" discussing the new silver dust which is believed capable of killing every thing in a vast area without lasting contamination effects.

In a town colled "Forts Kili," a young woman, with the connivance of a crooked judge and sheriff, is induced to frame a charge of attempted assault against a Negro Communist. This Negro's mother is an ill-treated servant in the home of the professor who developed the new weapon.

Five other Negroes also are arrested and all six are sentenced to the electric chair. But the young woman confesses her part in the framing.

The six Negroes are spirited from prison in a jeep manned by police and brought to the professor's laboratory where a general has them thrown into a cage used to hold animals in tests with the silver dust.

But rescue awaits. Amid buckets of melodrama, the Negroes finally are saved by "progressives." The leader of the band leaves the generals and businessmen with the parting thought that some day they will face a "Peoples' Court."

Soviet audiences have taken it silently, appearing even a bit puzzled, as if it were a little too complex to follow easily. There were only a few chuckles in the appropriate moment when the general makes a fool of himself.

In many theatres, this movie is followed by an ancient American film called "The Black Legion," about an organization like the Ku Klux Klan. It has been given Russian sub-titles to enable audiences to follow the story.

President Says Costs Of Living Are Less

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today increases in the cost of living are flattening out.

He told his news conference that although the cost of living has reached a peak, the important thing is that price increases have been much lower in the nine months of his administration than in previous years.

The President said the increase in the cost of living level thus far this year has been less than one percentage point, as compared with average increases of three points or more in previous years.

Brogan Body May Be That in River

Check Is Made at Hospital of Corpse; Same in Some Respects

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—The body of a drowned man was found floating off a North river pier today, and police said it might be Michael Brogan, missing dock boss.

Brogan's disappearance last Sept. 29 came in the midst of a bitter and still continuing union feud on the waterfront.

The missing man reportedly supported the new AFL Dock Union, which is being opposed by the old International Longshoremen's Association recently ousted from the AFL.

The ILA was accused by the parent union of harboring criminal elements, and refusing to get rid of underworld influences.

The office of the chief of detectives said the floating body, from outward appearances, might be that of Brogan, but that its condition was such that immediate identification could not be positive.

It was taken to Bellevue Hospital for further examination.

Friends of Brogan, an assistant hiring boss, have feared he met with foul play. He was last seen on Pier 32 on Sept 29. It was just off this same pier the body was found.

Brogan, 50, a medium man weighing 150 pounds, was partly

Sheriff's Aides Given Instruction By FBI at Range

Firing line instruction and practice for all members of the Ulster County Sheriff's Department began Tuesday afternoon at the Kingston Rifle and Pistol Club range near Sawkill.

The men are attending an FBI small arms school, conducted by Charles Smith and John Dunday, FBI firearms instructors. Arrangements for the week-long school were made through Sheriff Cluett Schantz.

Sessions are repeated morning and afternoon, so that the day shift men can be split between attending class and providing necessary manpower in the sheriff's office.

The school began Monday afternoon with lectures on safety and handling of firearms. Range work, in which safety is also stressed, includes target shooting and such specialized police work knowledge as hip shooting, point-shoulder shooting, and firing from prone and kneeling positions.

Most of the sheriff's department men are attending the school on their off-duty time.

Seeks Public Defenders

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell says he will ask Congress to provide paid public defenders in federal district courts throughout the nation. Brownell spoke last night at the closing session of the 22nd annual New York Herald Tribune Forum. He said this proposal for public defenders, to go before the next session of Congress, is part of a two-prong attack to enforce "vigorously and impartially . . . federal laws against subversion and crime and . . . to use every opportunity to strengthen and improve our federal system of justice . . ."

General Will Remain

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, just back from a Korean war prisoner camp, said today that his immediate plans are to remain in the army and try to find what has happened to the men of his division still listed as missing. Gen. Dean talked with reporters after a breakfast meeting with President Eisenhower. He said he had about 150 letters from wives and mothers of missing GI's of the 24th Infantry Division asking that he help clear up whether they are still alive.

Injunction Bars Stevedore Strike To Christmas Eve

Restraining Order Extends Full 80 Days; Beck Sees Violence as Due to Come

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—A Federal Court injunction, extended to the full 80 days permitted by the Taft-Hartley Labor Law, today barred any Atlantic coast longshoremen's strike until Christmas Eve.

The original injunction, which was to have expired last night, brought an end to a five-day walkout from Maine to Virginia by members of the International Longshoremen's Association.

Federal Judge Edward Weinfeld extended the restraining order in an action yesterday.

He had granted the original temporary order after President Eisenhower made his first use of the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Law. The strike had cost shippers an estimated 1½ million dollars daily. A wage-contract dispute was involved.

Weinfeld, meanwhile, reserved decision on a government motion to have the injunction apply to the AFL pier union, the ILA-AFL. He said he would make his decision by Sunday evening.

Old Union Expelled

The AFL recently expelled the old ILA for failing to rid itself of racketeering elements. The federation then chartered the new ILA-AFL, which has since been locked in a struggle with the ILA for the allegiance of 60,000 east coast longshoremen.

Although the ILA-AFL was not involved in the wage-contract dispute which caused the strike, the government contends it should be included in the injunction because it has applied to the National Labor Relations Board for certification as waterfront bargaining agent. The government says this makes the AFL union "an interested party."

The ILA-AFL says it had no connection with the strike early this month. The AFL group did not apply to the NLRB until after the strike started.

ILA negotiators had sought a 13-cent-an-hour wage and welfare package. The New York Shipping Association, representing 170 shipping and stevedoring firms, offered 8½ cents. The present basic wage rate is $2.27.

Beck Sees Trouble Ahead

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—Dave Beck, president of the AFL Teamsters Union, says that "men may be killed" cleaning up the New York waterfront.

Beck is one of five AFL officials setting up a new longshoremen's union rivaling the one expelled by the federation on grounds of failing to rid itself of racketeers.

He referred to the danger of the job yesterday in a talk to the National Press Club.

Beck also said the influence of labor unions with the Eisenhower administration is weak in comparison with that of business and farmers, and that organized labor may be "driven" into a political party of its own if "the present trend of conditions continues."

Stang Opens His Drive for Election

GOP Candidate for Mayor Outlines Some Policies He Would Follow

Frederick H. Stang, Republican candidate for mayor of Kingston, opened his campaign last evening with a talk given before a group of Republicans.

In his opening campaign talk Stang outlined some of the policies which he intends to put into effect when elected to the office of mayor. He was introduced by N. LeVan Haver, Republican City Chairman.

Stang called attention to the election every two years of a mayor, alderman-at-large, city judge and an alderman and supervisor from each of the thirteen wards of the city.

After expressing his "sense of elation at having been selected as my party's choice for this important office," he commented upon his interest in government.

Interested in government from the town and county level, Stang said he felt he had a good working knowledge of government. He has served as an official of the town of Shawangunk, as clerk of the board of supervisors and is presently county attorney.

Has Studied Government

Since his nomination for the position of mayor of Kingston, Stang said he had made it his business to more closely study the government of the city and to inspect its various departments and familiarize himself with their operation. City government he said has been well managed and he said he felt he could approach the office of mayor of the city fitted with a background

Colonial Gardens Work to Cost $34,571; Proposals Came Up Oct. 6

The Common Council at a recessed meeting last night, authorized bond issues of $34,571.48 for street work in Colonial Gardens and $4,765 to cover the cost of storm water and sanitary sewer work on Broadway between East Chestnut street and Delaware avenue.

Both proposals were introduced at the council's regular meeting Oct. 6.

First Ward Alderman Hirschell Mayes submitted a partial report as chairman of the railroad and bus committee on proposals for better protection at the Ten Broeck avenue railroad crossing, stating that one proposal is already under consideration by railroad officials.

Partial Report Made

Mayes said S. J. Keating, division superintendent of tracks of the West Shore railroad, had been notified and referred the proposal to a higher official, and said Keating would report back to the railroad and bus committee specifically on the request of Alderman Benjamin Storms, second ward, that the crossing be "manned" for 24 hours.

Alderman-at-large Kelly thanked Mayes and the committee for prompt action on the proposals made at the Oct. 6 meeting, and for the partial report made last night.

A proposal of prayer to save the world from war made by Samuel D. Scudder, Jr., in a letter, was referred to the laws and rules committee.

Scudder quoted from "Brass Tacks," a publication of the U. S. Savings & Loan League Directors Digest, Blackwell, Okla., which

Tallamy Calls 'Ridiculous' Inference Track Had Anything to Do With Thruway Route

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Bertram D. Tallamy, chairman of the State Thruway Authority, says any inference that Yonkers Raceway "had anything to do with the location of the Thruway or its being toll-free is ridiculous."

Tallamy notes that state law provides that the section of the Thruway from Tuckahoe road in Yonkers to the New York city line in the Bronx—7.3 miles—must be toll-free. Thus, it will cost nothing to drive to the Raceway from the city, where a bulk of the patrons come from.

He also rejects any charge that the Thruway route was "looped" through suburban Yonkers—allegedly at greatly increased construction costs—to conduct traffic to the Raceway.

Tallamy made his defense of the Yonkers aspects of the uncompleted Thruway at Albany yesterday after the Thruway committee of the Roman Catholic Church of St. John the Baptist, Yonkers, had sent a telegram to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

The church group asked Dewey to have his harness track probers "investigate the proposed free section of the . . . Thruway which is within the city of Yonkers to determine if the choice of Central Park avenue was not motivated by other reasons than the public convenience . . ."

Tallamy denied in his statement that raceway officials had influenced the choice of the Yonkers route of the New York city-Buffalo superhighway.

He said that although the alignment of the Thruway through Yonkers is not specified by law, there is a legal provision that construction be started at the northerly terminus of the Major Deegan expressway in the Bronx. Central Park avenue runs into the expressway.

Although some Yonkers civic groups have contended it would be cheaper to run the Thruway through Tibbetts Brook Park, about one half mile west of the present route, Tallamy denied the suggested alternate route is more feasible. He said the Tibbetts Brook Park valley has a high ridge that would require construction of an expensive tunnel if that route were used for the Thruway.

Dewey's Albany office said he would give no immediate comment on the church group's request for an investigation.

The Yonkers Trotting Assn., which conducts races at the Raceway, said in a statement last night that it "does not want and never has wanted the Thruway on Central (Park) avenue." The association also said:

"The Central (Park) avenue route necessarily would deprive the Raceway of valuable, badly needed parking space. It would seriously complicate, if not throttle, access and egress of auto and pedestrian traffic at the Raceway. It would bring a major highway too close to the racing strip."

The association added that it "felt it could not properly take a position against what appeared to be the set policy of the state in fixing a thruway route."

Citizen groups in Yonkers have contended that 12 million dollars

Soviet Move Hits America; Negroes Used as Guinea Pigs

Moscow, Oct. 21—A new Soviet color movie portraying American businessmen and generals as attempting to use six Negroes as human guinea pigs in testing a fearful secret war weapon is now playing to packed houses in many Moscow theatres.

The strongly anti-American film, which opened here this week, is entitled "Silver Dust." It gives the impression that only "progressives" in the United States oppose the machinations of evil persons. The heroes are those who sympathize with a Negro character who announces he is a Communist.

The movie opens with two American generals representing the "trust" discussing the new silver dust which is believed capable of killing every thing in a vast area without lasting contamination effects.

In a town colled "Forts Kili," a young woman, with the connivance of a crooked judge and sheriff, is induced to frame a charge of attempted assault against a Negro Communist. This Negro's mother is an ill-treated servant in the home of the professor who developed the new weapon.

Five other Negroes also are arrested and all six are sentenced to the electric chair. But the young woman confesses her part in the framing.

The six Negroes are spirited from prison in a jeep manned by police and brought to the professor's laboratory where a general has them thrown into a cage used to hold animals in tests with the silver dust.

But rescue awaits. Amid buckets of melodrama, the Negroes finally are saved by "progressives." The leader of the band leaves the generals and businessmen with the parting thought that some day they will face a "Peoples' Court."

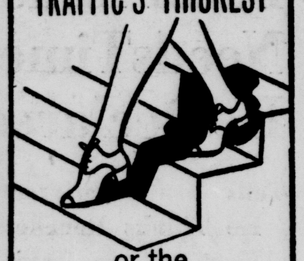

Soviet audiences have taken it silently, appearing even a bit puzzled, as if it were a little too complex to follow easily. There were only a few chuckles in the appropriate moment when the general makes a fool of himself.

In many theatres, this movie is followed by an ancient American film called "The Black Legion," about an organization like the Ku Klux Klan. It has been given Russian sub-titles to enable audiences to follow the story.

Stang Opens His

of experience that should stand him in good stead.

City government is the government of the people and he said it did not belong to any one man or any one organization.

"I feel I can bring a fresh approach to some of the problems that beset our municipality, but always with the thought that whatever is done will be for the best interest of the city of Kingston."

There must be no division between sections of the city and the city government must be operated so as to serve all of the people from all sections.

Calls It 'Big Business'

Referring to city government as "big business," he said he would endeavor to operate the city government as such and to operate the "business" in an economical manner.

Stang, a resident of Ulster county for 32 years, 18 of which have been lived in the city of Kingston, said "getting back to what I would do if elected, I can but, at this time, make suggestions, not promises, but rather, shall we call them hopes and desires."

"First, and probably one of the more important problems is our city streets, we have many many miles of streets in this city that require constant attention. We are endeavoring to improve those streets in the order of their importance to the traveling public. With the coming of the thruway, there are presented some problems that I am sure will be worked out satisfactorily to all. When the thruway is completed, a great deal of the through traffic will by-pass the city. That will mean a great saving to us, for it will permit us then, to spend the money in those areas that of necessity have not received attention."

"In my inspection of the water supply of our city, we started in at Mink Hollow, where the supply originates, and followed the system from source to faucet; and believe me, friends, I was amazed at the vastness of our system. We have one of the finest supplies of water in any community in this state."

Needs Constant Attention

"But, like any other public utility, it requires constant attention, maintenance and replacement to keep up. I find, however, that there is a part of our system which is known as Reservoir Number 1, on the Zena road that is not being used because it is an unsatisfactory source of supply. The consulting engineers who have long been familiar with our system, have recommended on several occasions that it might well be disposed of. This reservoir is really a beautiful spot, and useful for so many purposes. While the water board is a separate department of the city and its operations are not part of the city budget, nevertheless, I would recommend to the water board that consideration be given to the possibility of disposing of Reservoir Number 1, for a fair and reasonable price, just as any family would do when they find that they have something for which they no longer have any use. The money thus obtained could be used for further improvement of the system. In addition, this would mean considerable savings in taxes now paid by the Water Department to the town wherein the reservoir is located."

In reference to the completion of the Kate Walton Field House, Stang said, he felt that building could be used for many functions now held in the Municipal auditorium which is maintained at a cost of about $9,000 a year with an income of between $800 and $900. If elected he said he would call together organizations now having occasion to use the Municipal auditorium and see if anything can be done to increase its usefulness and bring additional revenue to the city.

Residents of any community should be kept informed as to what their representatives are doing and he promised, if elected, to bring to the people of the city from time to time information of the work of the various departments as a report to the people.

Stang said he was proud to be a Republican candidate on a ticket along with such men as Joe Kelly, candidate for reelection as alderman-at-large who has proven his worth as president of the common council; City Judge Raymond Mino and the other candidates at ward level.

Tallamy Calls

could be saved by running the thruway farther west through the city instead of winding it through business and residential areas along Central Park avenue, on which the raceway is situated.

Critics have complained that toll collections from northbound autos on the thruway will begin only at Tuckahoe road, several miles north of the raceway. On Sawmill Parkway, tolls are collected just above the New York city line.

In another raceway probe development, Nassau county Democratic Chairman Lawrence W. McKeown announced yesterday he had sent a letter to Bruce Bromley, chairman of the Moreland Act Commission probing the state's harness tracks. The letter demanded an investigation of the manner in which the Goshen Mile Track Association managed to obtain racing dates at the Yonkers track several years ago.

McKeown charged that this transaction led to ultimate establishment of the Yonkers Raceway, with financial benefits to Republican leaders. He added that this could not have been brought about without Dewey's consent.

McKeown told Bromley that various harness track probers apparently were seeking to "tar the union members who work at the tracks, and their elected representatives, to the exclusion of all others involved."

The Democratic leader suggested that the Moreland Commission look into the report that various high-placed state Republican leaders knew that the Goshen Mile Track Association—predecessor of the Yonkers Trotting Association—"was to be the lucky applicant for racing dates at Yonkers, when many other corporations, combines and individuals were seeking these dates."

"It is even more amazing," McKeown continued, "that this little association up in Orange county should have been designated to conduct the racing at the old Empire City Track in Yonkers . . ."

McKeown said transfer of a license from one track to another was not allowable at that time.

Council Votes

said that each morning at 11 o'clock, the fire whistle blows, hundreds stop whatever they are doing, bow their heads and spend "an earnest moment asking God to save the world from war."

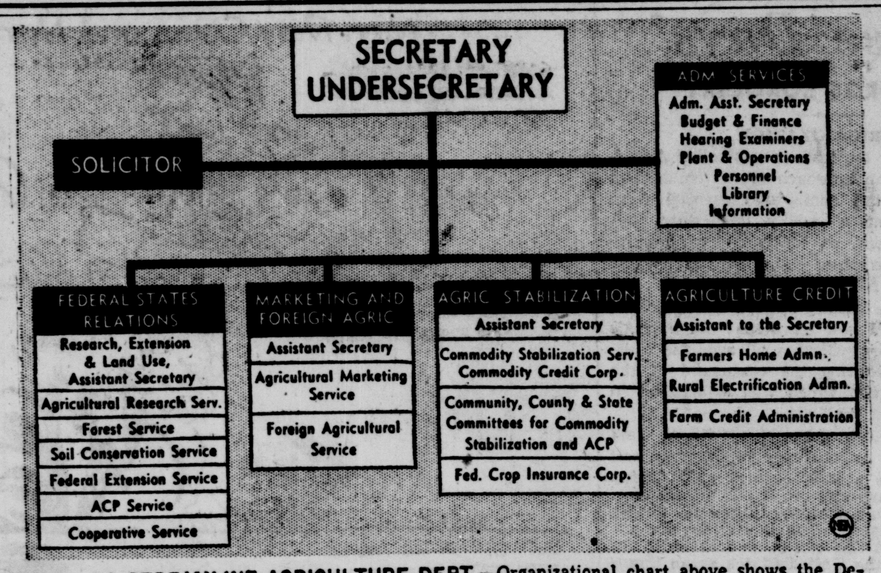

This, he said, has been a practice for more than a year, and he said he would like to see it become effective here.

Resolutions Offered

The following resolutions were offered and referred for action: Norton—that Water street, which is now dusty, be oiled; Dolan—that safety lines be painted at Wurts and McEntee streets; Cullum—that a street sign be placed at Wilkie avenue and Pearl street, and a light at Main and Sharon Lane, and that Johnston, Lafayette and Grandview avenues be repaired.

A request for a zoning change on a Jansen avenue property made by Attorney Vincent G. Connelly on behalf of Michael Ambrose, was referred to the laws and rules committee. Connelly asked that a public hearing be held on the proposal.

A bird's eye has a third eyelid which keeps the eye moist; it also doubles as a light filter.

PLAN TO STREAMLINE AGRICULTURE DEPT.—Organizational chart above shows the Department of Agriculture line-up under Secretary Benson's proposed plan to streamline the agency on a more business-like, efficient and decentralized basis. The new plan puts all service agencies under the four main groups shown with names in white, plus present Administrative Services groups.

Yank Says . . .

the Korean POWs—who have steadfastly refused to leave their compounds—have promised to decide then whether to go quietly to the interviews.

Obtains Promise

He said Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimaya, Indian chairman of the Repatriation Commission, had obtained the promise and was "trying to reason" with the rebellious prisoners.

Dickenson, wearing a blue Chinese POW uniform, snapped a smart salute as he walked up to a marine major who received him at the transfer tent in the neutral zone.

Dickenson angrily crumpled a pack of Chinese cigarettes and asked an Indian officer, "is it all right to smoke, sir?" the officer replied, "yes" and the smiling corporal lit an American cigarette.

Dickensen made up his mind to come back some time before 10 o'clock Tuesday night. The soldier approached an Indian guard, complained of being ill and asked to be taken to the medical station outside the stockade.

Once there, Dickenson asked for an officer, and an Indian non-commissioned officer asked by American prisoner: "What is wrong with you?"

Dickinson replied: "Nothing's wrong with me. I want to be repatriated."

Dickinson was segregated from the other non-repatriated prisoners.

Wednesday morning, one of the other American prisoners reported to Indian guards that Dickenson was missing, a reliable source said.

He said the POW, showing no reaction, immediatly went back into the compound and told the other Americans that Dickensen had asked to go home.

Gotham Man Held For Truck Theft, Sale of Articles

A 30-year-old man charged with the theft and sale of a truckload of refrigerators was arrested yesterday afternoon at Wingdale by state police of the Ellenville station.

Richard Marcinkowski of 251 West 91st street, New York, was taken into custody on a bench warrant charged with grand larceny first degree.

Troopers said Marcinkowski, also known under the alias Marcia, and a companion, James Bergen of New York, are charged with stealing the truck and selling the refrigerators in New York. Troopers said Marcinkowski was employed at the time by the Bungalow Colony at Greenfield Park.

Bergen was arrested recently in South Fallsburgh on a similar charge, troopers said.

Held for Grand Jury

Robert J. Fenton, 39, of RFD 4, Kingston, was arrested at 3 p. m. yesterday by state police of the Kingston station charged with burglary third degree.

He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Clarence Rappleyea of the Town of Ulster, waived examination and was held for the grand jury.

Is Historical Fact

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that the Tennessee Valley Administration is a historical fact and he does not know that it could or should be sold to private interests. The question came up at his news conference in a request for comment of the statement by Clarence Manion, head of the President's commission on inter-governmental relationships, that TVA should be sold to private industry. Manion had made the remark in a television appearance Monday night.

Americans used about 824 pounds of milk per person in 1939 and 695 pounds in 1952.

Mentioned as Choices

Stockholm, Sweden, Oct. 21 (AP)—An American and a British biochemist were reported here today as likely choices for this year's Nobel prize in medicine and physiology. The winners of the $33,800 award will be announced tomorrow night by Stockholm's Caroline Institute of Medicine, which distributes the annual awards under the terms of the will of Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite. The Swedish afternoon newspaper Expressen said the top candidates were Dr. Fritz A. Lipmann of the Harvard School of Medicine, and Dr. Adolph Krebs of Sheffield University in Britain. Both rank among the world's leading authorities on metabolism of the human cells.

May File Court Suit

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Supporters of Manhattan Borough President Robert F. Wagner, Jr., are expected to file a court suit today or tomorow seeking to force the State Parole Board to release the complete list of persons who sought a parole for labor extortionist Joseph S. Fay. Wagner, Democratic nominee for mayor, has made the Fay case an issue in his campaign. It was reported yesterday that Henry D. Epstein, former solicitor general of the state, had been retained to seek a State Supreme Court order for release of the list "in the public interest."

Denies Intercession

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—The State Parole Board today flatly denied that any member of the Eisenhower administration has interceded in behalf of labor extortionist Joseph S. (Joey) Fay.

Eisenhower Has

one, is not going to be critical of the secretary.

Eisenhower, at the outset, volunteered the comment he was deeply gratified that the drouth state governors with whom he met in Kansas City had agreed on a program of federal-state cooperation "to relieve their emergency conditions rather than seeking to depend on federal aid alone.

Drouth Very Serious

He said there is no use trying to minimize the drouth situation—that it is very, very serious and that a lot of things remain to be done.

But he said farmers in general are very happy that the administration is trying to develop a comprehensive program and is getting the constant advice of practical farmers in doing so.

As for the Wisconsin election, Eisenhower said with a chuckle that the correspondents are probably better equipped to analyze a local election outcome than he is.

Frankly, the President said, he just doesn't know how to interpret the result.

Eisenhower said it looked to him as if both cattlement and farmers were taking this present situation in their stride.

He said he got that impression very strongly from a group of old friends with whom he had lunch last week at Abilene, Kan.

These people, the President said, were not as concerned as are some of the people—obviously meaning political figures—who visit his office.

Stang Opens His

of experience that should stand him in good stead.

City government is the government of the people and he said it did not belong to any one man or any one organization.

"I feel I can bring a fresh approach to some of the problems that beset our municipality, but always with the thought that whatever is done will be for the best interest of the city of Kingston."

There must be no division between sections of the city and the city government must be operated so as to serve all of the people from all sections.

Calls It 'Big Business'

Referring to city government as "big business," he said he would endeavor to operate the city government as such and to operate the "business" in an economical manner.

Stang, a resident of Ulster county for 32 years, 18 of which have been lived in the city of Kingston, said "getting back to what I would do if elected, I can but, at this time, make suggestions, not promises, but rather, shall we call them hopes and desires."

"First, and probably one of the more important problems is our city streets, we have many many miles of streets in this city that require constant attention. We are endeavoring to improve those streets in the order of their importance to the traveling public. With the coming of the thruway, there are presented some problems that I am sure will be worked out satisfactorily to all. When the thruway is completed, a great deal of the through traffic will by-pass the city. That will mean a great saving to us, for it will permit us then, to spend the money in those areas that of necessity have not received attention."

"In my inspection of the water supply of our city, we started in at Mink Hollow, where the supply originates, and followed the system from source to faucet; and believe me, friends, I was amazed at the vastness of our system. We have one of the finest supplies of water in any community in this state."

Needs Constant Attention

"But, like any other public utility, it requires constant attention, maintenance and replacement to keep up. I find, however, that there is a part of our system which is known as Reservoir Number 1, on the Zena road that is not being used because it is an unsatisfactory source of supply. The consulting engineers who have long been familiar with our system, have recommended on several occasions that it might well be disposed of. This reservoir is really a beautiful spot, and useful for so many purposes. While the water board is a separate department of the city and its operations are not part of the city budget, nevertheless, I would recommend to the water board that consideration be given to the possibility of disposing of Reservoir Number 1, for a fair and reasonable price, just as any family would do when they find that they have something for which they no longer have any use. The money thus obtained could be used for further improvement of the system. In addition, this would mean considerable savings in taxes now paid by the Water Department to the town wherein the reservoir is located."

In reference to the completion of the Kate Walton Field House, Stang said, he felt that building could be used for many functions now held in the Municipal auditorium which is maintained at a cost of about $9,000 a year with an income of between $800 and $900. If elected he said he would call together organizations now having occasion to use the Municipal auditorium and see if anything can be done to increase its usefulness and bring additional revenue to the city.

Residents of any community should be kept informed as to what their representatives are doing and he promised, if elected, to bring to the people of the city from time to time information of the work of the various departments as a report to the people.

Stang said he was proud to be a Republican candidate on a ticket along with such men as Joe Kelly, candidate for reelection as alderman-at-large who has proven his worth as president of the common council; City Judge Raymond Mino and the other candidates at ward level.

RESULTS OF SPECIAL ELECTIONS

Special congressional elections in off years always create a lot of commotion. Inevitably they are looked to by politicians and public alike for indications of a trend that might carry into the next general election.

We have just had the first such test of real consequence. In Wisconsin's Ninth Congressional District, a farming area in the northwest portion of the state, the voters elected a Democrat for the first time in history. The race was to fill a vacancy caused by the death of a Republican representative.

Democrats naturally are hailing the result as a sign of things to come, and as proof the farmers are displeased with administration agricultural policies. Even the losing GOP candidate viewed the outcome as a slap at the present government.

It might be true. But one swallow does not make a summer. It would be foolish either for administration politicians to exhibit panic or for Democrats to count the 1954 race won as result of this decision.

Some observers point out that the winning Democrats pledged during his campaign to follow the voting pattern of the previous Republican recumbent, who was a maverick opposed to all of the policies dear to the Adlai Stevenson Democrats.

It could be that the election of a maverick Democrat to replace a maverick Republican is a meaningless shift of labels—or in any event hardly more than a slap by the farmers at administration farm policies.

When Franklin D. Roosevelt was President, the Republicans developed quite a habit of winning special elections. Once in a while they even pulled off a real shocker, like upsetting the opposition in a long-established Democratic district in New York City. Now and then their victories seemed to build into a marked trend.

But it was always different in presidential years, and even in nonpresidential general elections, with the exception of 1946, the GOP never went over the top.

So these special races have to be taken with a grain of salt. A party may read into victory or defeat almost anything he wishes. But it had better read with caution, for there is no way of being sure until the big event comes along.

RED BID TO TITO

Russia wasted no time in going on the record in favor of Yugoslavia in the dispute with Italy over Trieste, despite the fact that Tito is still considered an arch-heretic in the Kremlin. Some observers see the Russian declaration as a move toward a reconciliation between Russia and Yugoslavia. Others believe that Tito has taken his country too far along the road to cooperation with the Western powers to turn back now even if he wanted to.

TOP VALUE FOR YOUR DOLLAR

A good many people probably still believe that typical retail merchants operate on the "all the traffic will bear" philosophy and are always trying to jack up prices to the last possible notch.

That simply isn't true—not because merchants are any more charitable than the rest of us, but because success in merchandising demands a very different attitude.

An official of a national retailing association recently put the case this way: "As the purchasing agents for the consumer the objective of America's retailers is the satisfaction and comfort of the nation's retail customers through the greatest possible distribution of the country's productive capacity. The successful accomplishment of that objective depends on our ability to offer value for every dollar spent in our stores. When values are lowered, sales fall, production drops, purchasing power is retarded and often brought to a complete halt."

In other words, for purely selfish reasons if none other it is good business for the merchant to give the best value he can. The whole theory of mass distribution, which started a retail revolution a generation or so ago, is based upon small unit profits along with a big enough volume to produce a satisfactory total profit when the books are balanced.

Finally, competition that most inexorable of forces, protects the consumer against the occasional profiteer.

AMERICANIZATION

Way back in my boyhood, it was called Americanization. It was an approach to the children of immigrants or to the immigrants themselves so that they might more readily understand this country, its traditions, its ideals and its institutions without so uprooting the individual that he was left without a moral basis for life.

It is now half a century since I was absorbed in this process and I now learn that the YMHA's and Jewish Community Centers all over the United States are celebrating the centennial of the first such organization, which was established in Baltimore, Maryland, in 1854.

The American people are a composite of some 50 nations or races or whatever you wish to call them. This must be a good country or so many people would not have come to it and stayed here. And they still not only continue to migrate to this land of ours but quarrel when limitations are put on immigration. And this can be said as well: nobody ever came to the United States as an immigrant who was content to live in the land of his birth. People were driven to America by religious persecution, and by unfavorable economic and social conditions.

The children of these immigrants are quickly translated into Americans by the public school system, which wears off the rough edges of strangeness and gives to all children an equality of opportunity that is the characteristic of this country.

In my childhood, we used to play on the streets after school, unorganized play except that one boy always asserted leadership and somehow his capacities dominated the group. If this strong boy was a decent fellow, the gang was decent; if he tended to be a thief, the gang went criminal. The elders played a small part in the lives of the children; they worked a 12-hour day and came home tired and irritable. Even more than that, the children knew that the parents were "greenhorns," as they were called, and doubted their knowledge because they did not speak English.

My experience as a child has been reproduced generation after generation. At this moment, the same difficulties, the same problems assert themselves among the newest immigrants. When children play on streets, they form gangs and gangs can be good or bad; they can be a substitute for organized play or they can become the breeding grounds for crime.

Those of us who were fortunate enough to join clubs or go to playrooms in social settlements were given an added opportunity for Americanization. The YMHA's, as the YMCA's, were not, in those days, situated in the slum areas where I was brought up, but there was the Educational Alliance, the University Settlement, the Henry Street Settlement and a number of similar institutions which took us to their bosoms and gave us opportunities for self-improvement which were otherwise unavailable.

I went to the Educational Alliance on the East Side of New York, which, at that time, devoted itself to Americanization. When I think of General David Sarnoff and Eddie Cantor, I cannot avoid recalling the circumstances of their childhood and the remarkable results achieved by these associations not in uprooting children from their ancestry, but in transplanting them to wholesome soil and helping them to grow straight into the sun.

And Americanization is a good term for this process, because the American ideal of human freedom and dignity, of playing the game by the rules, yet playing as an individual, competitively taking the risks and expecting just rewards without prejudice or discrimination—these concepts of life are not European and they did not come to us naturally. They had to be taught by precept and experience.

I am willing to wager that no boy who in those years went through the Americanization process became a racketeer or a spy. We were Americans, we belonged.

Half a century away, I think that I can say that the Americanization influences of the Educational Alliance did more for me than any other force that I encountered. In those days Boys Clubs also played a part in building character in men. While this work was not limited to Jewish immigrants and their children, it is interesting that the Jewish group is celebrating a century of such work in and for America. It is a work that should be continued among the newer immigrants.

That Body of Yours

REMOVING CERUMEN (WAX) FROM EARS

Now that physicians and dentists have health-minded people consulting them twice a year, it might be well for us to visit an ear specialist at least once a year to have the cerumen (wax) removed from the ear canal. This cerumen may be present in such a large amount that it blocks the passage of sound to middle and inner ear, by preventing the ear drum vibrating. Why some individuals have an excess of cerumen is not clearly understood; the shape of the outer end of the canal sometimes helps to retain the waxy mass. The impacted cerumen is "a mixture of wax, dust, hair, and scales from outer coat or surface of the skin."

The symptoms of impacted cerumen are (a) decrease in hearing ability, (b) full feeling in ears making many think they have high blood pressure, (c) sometimes ringing in ears and head noises, (d) cough, sometimes slight dizziness, itching. Sudden onset of these symptoms after swimming or a showerbath may occur, the water causing swelling of the cerumen mass.

As the removal of this mass with the disappearance of the symptoms usually requires about one visit to the ear specialist, this is well invested time and money as the patient's attempt to remove the mass may involve the use of hairpins, paper clips, and toothpicks with serious results. The old saying that nothing smaller than the elbow should be put into the outer ear, still holds good.

While there are proprietary preparations which soften the cerumen so that it can be removed by syringing with half-strength peroxide of hydrogen, the force or strength of the syringe used may not be properly controlled by the patient himself so that the ear specialist with a controlled pressure syringe is best able to remove the plug.

He first puts in the peroxide and water, half and half, in one ear, has it remain in for a few minute, patient placing his head on a towel so as to hold in the peroxide, olive oil, or other preparation to soften the plug, and then syringes the ear with a hot solution of boracic acid, a half teaspoon to a glass of water. This usually removes the plug in one piece. If not, the process is repeated. It is free of pain.

I write about this cerumen plug at least once a year because it gives so much relief from symptoms noted above and also as a warning to the patient not to try to remove the plug himself.

Men May Come and Men May Go—

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's call for an investigation of middlemen's profits on meat sales has caused considerable head scratching in Washington.

So far, the secretary has been pretty well supported by the meat-packing industry. He has not resorted to any extreme measures to increase the price of beef cattle on the hoof. This, however, has not been popular with the livestock raisers.

If Secretary Benson's new study finds the meat packers, wholesalers and retailers have not been making unreasonable profits out of this situation, he may well retain their support.

If, however, the Benson report shows the middlemen have been gouging the livestock producers, there may be trouble.

It is a foregone conclusion that any such findings would be answered by loud denials from the meat industry. Any time anyone talks about the huge profits of the packing industry, he is snowed under by reams of statistics showing the processors make only a fraction of a cent a pound on all meat handled.

Some Packers Show Loss on Packing

Some packers even show figures of losses on meat operations. They attribute their profits to hides, tallow and other by-products. One of the main wails of the packing industry now is that the market for these by-products has dropped. They say this cuts their receipts so they must keep meat prices high. What Secretary Benson's study of middlemen's margins is going to prove remains something of a mystery.

Still another puzzle is why it is necessary to make this study at all. BAE—the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in Department of Agriculture—has one of the largest and best economic-analysis staffs in Washington. If there is anything that BAE doesn't know about farm prices, nobody knows it.

For instance, a marketing-research report on "Costs of Retailing Meats" published only last August, showed that the livestock producer got 64 cents out of the consumer's meat dollar. Of the remaining 36 cents, less than three cents went to the marketing of livestock, 13 cents went to the meat packer, four cents to the wholesaler and 16 cents to the retailer. This is for choice and prime grades. No data have been colleted on good, commercial and utility grades.

These poorer grades, coming from cattle sold diresctly from the range to the packing houses without going through the feed lots for fattening, make up about half of the U. S. meat sold. These poorer grades go largely into hamburger, canned and processed meats.

Range cattle have sold as high as 30 cents a pound in periods of meat shortage. During this year's drouth the price has dropped to nine and 10 cents a pound. The price of hamburger hasn't come down by any such proportion. This is one of the main reasons why an investigation of middlemen's margins seems in order.

Drouth Forced Sale of Large Stocks of Cattle

The drop in range-cattle prices this year has of course been due to forced selling of herds in the drouth areas. Having no grass and water, stockmen had to sell for whatever they could get.

As a result of this forced liquidation, the total number of U. S. cattle next Jan. 1 may be just about the same as it was last Jan. 1. Secretary Benson puts this number at 94 million head.

Fewer cattle on the range means a meat supply more in balance with total U. S. meat demand. But with U. S. population increasing at the rate of two million a year, and with U. S. per capita consumption of meat now at a high of nearly 75 pounds a year, the total demand for meat is bound to go up.

This situation means a stabilized and probably higher prices for meat next year. It also probably means a higher meat price for consumers. But in all this talk over meat prices, it is interesting to note there is no great concern for what the consumer pays.

The principal concern of the Department of Agriculture is in seeing that the farmer gets a fair, meaning a profitable price, for the meat animals he sells.

Question Often Heard Is Whether Facts Catch Up With Smears to Erase Latter

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 21—When a man is smeared by a congressional committee, do the facts actually catch up and erase the smear?

This is a question often debated here in Washington, and the best answer is that, if a man is considered innocent until proved guilty, the American public will hesitate to condemn a man on mere accusations and will await the final verdict.

Having stated the general attitude toward such cases, the question now arises whether the "Americans for Democratic Action" and the Senate Subcommittee on Elections, which did a "smear" job on Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin with innuendoes of guilt, will now undo the damage they both did and distribute as widely the latest official information which exonerates him from violation of any federal laws.

For the Department of Justice, through a letter written by Attorney General Brownell, now declares that the criminal division has reviewed the charges enumerated by a Senate subcommittee but on which the committee itself refused to pass judgment. The Senate subcommittee said only that it was transmitting the report to the attorney general "for such consideration as may be within the jurisdiction and the responsibility" of the Department of Justice. The attorney general now says he has examined the report to see if any federal offenses had been committed. He states:

"Thes report fails to show the commission of any such offenses. The subcommittee spent a great deal of time, effort and money in its investigations made prior to the preparation of the report and there is no reason to believe that new evidence would be forthcoming from further investigation."

So the attorney general declares there is no reason to pass the data on to the grand jury. He adds that any other questions relating to income taxes would have to be passed upon by the Treasury Department. Everybody knows that the treasury under the Truman administration had access to the same facts about the Wisconsin senator's tax returns and found nothing on which to base any accusation. So it is logical to infer that the treasury, which rarely discusses anybody's income-tax returns unless there is an irregularity involving fraud, will consider the Truman administration's judgment to be final.

The attorney general took occasion also to write a letter disposing of charges of law violation in the Maryland senatorial election of 1950. He declared that "all further lines of inquiry, as suggested by the report, have been exhaustively followed, and additional investigatigative leads pursued," and it is "our conclusion that the evidence fails to establish the commission of any public offense defined by federal statute."

How far will this exoneration get with the critics of Senator McCarthy, especially those who have insisted in other cases that they believe in considering a man innocent of crime until proved guilty? Perhaps some of them will argue that the Wisconsin senator has himself accused other people through his legislative inquiries. But, despite all the furor about harm to innocent persons who have been accused of having Communist connections, not a single case has ever been proved against the Wisconsin senator of bringing anybody before his committee who had not in some way been mixed up with Communist organizations. The extent of this association, however, when met with frankness by the witness has brought no public condemnation. Those who have used the fifth amendment to refuse to testify or those in government service whose cases have been acted on adversely by loyalty review boards have been the object of criticism. it must be noted also that in virtually every case, even those not dismissed, there was a basis for questioning Communist connections or sympathies, and these cases are usually not publicized at all.

Conceding, on the other hand, that the Wisconsin senator may have made some mistakes in certain instances, two wrongs do not make a single right, and it will be interesting to see whether the distribution of copies of charges against Senator McCarthy by the "Americans for Democratic Action" will be followed now by the distribution by this organization of an equal number of copies of the letters of exoneration from the Department of Justice.

Maybe if this is done, it will have a salutary effect on all extremists and produce an era of better feeling on the subject of congressional inquiries. For, if the harm done can be offset by proper corrective measures exonerating the innocent, there will be a greater concentration on getting at the really guilty.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

If President Eisenhower has the moral decency and the moral courage to attack the racketeers who have been preying on "labor" ever since Roosevelt gave them the signal, he can drive through one of the greatest reforms in our history.

Some freak of psychology has dramatized the wickedness and greed of the American Federation of Labor. Let the CIO stew in its evil juice a while. The CIO is weak and, if anyone says it doesn't use common criminals, the answer is that Philip Murray plucked out of all the multitude of men available for the highest office of the CIO on the West coast a low-lived wife-beater and burglar with a multiple criminal record named Tim Flynn, of Worcester, Mass.

Murray could not have chosen a worse specimen of the vermin who have been attracted to the union rackets as rats are drawn to a garbage-dump. And he chose Tim Flynn with the sure instinct of an eye-rolling mountebank who had the blasphemous gall to make a speech comparing his own paltry megrims to the Passion of Jesus Christ. He planted Flynn on the West coast with headquarters in San Francisco as successor to Harry Bridges simply because Bridges supported the candidate of his own choice in the 1948 campaign. Bridges backed Bubblehead Wallace. In fine, Murray set up the principle that any American who becomes a member of the CIO forfeits his right to personal political decision.

The list of visitors to the cell of Joe Fay, a convicted traitor to the sacred "cause of labor," at Sing Sing presents many facts which President Ike could exploit to start a salutary reform.

In 19442, two crooks were indicted in the Federal Court in Albany for robbing workers on a War Department building "project," by the abuse of their powers as agents of Local 106 of the Operating Engineers' Union. They were Tom and John McGraw, father and son. This, of sourse, was Fay's own union. He was "international" vice president, president of a local under the patronage of the Hague-New Deal corruption in New Jersey, and a magnate in a large way of business providing heavy machinery for contractors on big war plant excavations. These McGraws were hoodlum politicians of the Democratic machine in Albany. It should be noted that the AF of L crooks were Democrats then with few exceptions. The Republicans, who have been caught in the current swirl occasioned by the murder of Tommy Lewis and the harness-track rackets wherever the David Harums cluck, are mostly freshmen in the racket.

In 1942, Thurman Arnold was messing around as assistant attorney general in the Department of Justice, pawing at flagrant but well-protected political concessions granted by the Roosevelt administration, with a program of prosecution that mostly came to nothing. He got some convictions, but most of them were reversed. The reversals included the fantastic teamsters' case where the Supreme Court held that when a highway robber climbed onto a truck at the Jersey City mouth of the tunnel to New York, demanding $10 to let the truck proceed, he became an employe just by saying "I want to drive your truck through the tunnel." Even if he were drunk or didn't know how to drive, he became an employe in the eyes of the Supreme Court, entitled to his pay if he just said: "I want the job."

Thurman's peregrinations took him to Albany where he got an indictment against Tom and John McGraw and two other bums under the anti-kick-back law. All four were connected with Local 106. Thomas F. McGraw was the big shot and John had a city job as "stationary engineer" in the Bureau of Streets.

These McGraws and the other two bums apparently got either bad advice or cold feet because they all pleaded "guilty" and paid $10,000, each. That was a dumb mistake because a few months later some kindred bums in a similar case stood trial, lost, appealed and won out.

John now runs a saloon and

RESULTS OF SPECIAL ELECTIONS

Special congressional elections in off years always create a lot of commotion. Inevitably they are looked to by politicians and public alike for indications of a trend that might carry into the next general election.

I went to the Educational Allianee on the East Side of New York, which, at that time, devoted itself to Americanization. When I think of General David Sarnoff and Eddie Cantor, I cannot avoid recalling the circumstances of their childhood and the remarkable results achieved by these associations not in uprooting children from their ancestry, but in transplanting them to wholesome soil and helping them to grow straight into the sun.

And Americanization is a good term for this process, because the American ideal of human freedom and dignity, of playing the game by the rules, yet playing as an individual, competitively taking the risks and expecting just rewards without prejudice or discrimination—these concepts of life are not European and they did not come to us naturally. They had to be taught by precept and experience.

I am willing to wager that no boy who in those years went through the Americanization process became a racketeer or a spy. We were Americans, we belonged.

Half a century away, I think that I can say that the Americanization influences of the Educational Alliance did more for me than any other force that I encountered. In those days Boys Clubs also played a part in building character in men. While this work was not limited to Jewish immigrants and their children, it is interesting that the Jewish group is celebrating a century of such work in and for America. It is a work that should be continued among the newer immigrants.

That Body of Yours

REMOVING CERUMEN (WAX) FROM EARS

Now that physicians and dentists have health-minded people consulting them twice a year, it might be well for us to visit an ear specialist at least once a year to have the cerumen (wax) removed from the ear canal. This cerumen may be present in such a large amount that it blocks the passage of sound to middle and inner ear, by preventing the ear drum vibrating. Why some individuals have an excess of cerumen is not clearly understood; the shape of the outer end of the canal sometimes helps to retain the waxy mass. The impacted cerumen is "a mixture of wax, dust, hair, and scales from outer coat or surface of the skin."

The symptoms of impacted cerumen are (a) decrease in hearing ability, (b) full feeling in ears making many think they have high blood pressure, (c) sometimes ringing in ears and head noises, (d) cough, sometimes slight dizziness, itching. Sudden onset of these symptoms after swimming or a showerbath may occur, the water causing swelling of the cerumen mass.

As the removal of this mass with the disappearance of the symptoms usually requires about one visit to the ear specialist, this is well invested time and money as the patient's attempt to remove the mass may involve the use of hairpins, paper clips, and toothpicks with serious results. The old saying that nothing smaller than the elbow should be put into the outer ear, still holds good.

While there are proprietary preparations which soften the cerumen so that it can be removed by syringing with half-strength peroxide of hydrogen, the force or strength of the syringe used may not be properly controlled by the patient himself so that the ear specialist with a controlled pressure syringe is best able to remove the plug.

He first puts in the peroxide and water, half and half, in one ear, has it remain in for a few minute, patient placing his head on a towel so as to hold in the peroxide, olive oil, or other preparation to soften the plug, and then syringes the ear with a hot solution of boracic acid, a half teaspoon to a glass of water. This usually removes the plug in one piece. If not, the process is repeated. It is free of pain.

I write about this cerumen plug at least once a year because it gives so much relief from symptoms noted above and also as a warning to the patient not to try to remove the plug himself.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's call for an investigation of middlemen's profits on meat sales has caused considerable head scratching in Washington.

So far, the secretary has been pretty well supported by the meat-packing industry. He has not resorted to any extreme measures to increase the price of beef cattle on the hoof. This, however, has not been popular with the livestock raisers.

If Secretary Benson's new study finds the meat packers, wholesalers and retailers have not been making unreasonable profits out of this situation, he may well retain their support.

If, however, the Benson report shows the middlemen have been gouging the livestock producers, there may be trouble.

It is a foregone conclusion that any such findings would be answered by loud denials from the meat industry. Any time anyone talks about the huge profits of the packing industry, he is snowed under by reams of statistics showing the processors make only a fraction of a cent a pound on all meat handled.

Some Packers Show Loss on Packing

Some packers even show figures of losses on meat operations. They attribute their profits to hides, tallow and other by-products. One of the main wails of the packing industry now is that the market for these by-products has dropped. They say this cuts their receipts so they must keep meat prices high. What Secretary Benson's study of middlemen's margins is going to prove remains something of a mystery.

Still another puzzle is why it is necessary to make this study at all. BAE—the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in Department of Agriculture—has one of the largest and best economic-analysis staffs in Washington. If there is anything that BAE doesn't know about farm prices, nobody knows it.

For instance, a marketing-research report on "Costs of Retailing Meats" published only last August, showed that the livestock producer got 64 cents out of the consumer's meat dollar. Of the remaining 36 cents, less than three cents went to the marketing of livestock, 13 cents went to the meat packer, four cents to the wholesaler and 16 cents to the retailer. This is for choice and prime grades. No data have been colleted on good, commercial and utility grades.

These poorer grades, coming from cattle sold diresctly from the range to the packing houses without going through the feed lots for fattening, make up about half of the U. S. meat sold. These poorer grades go largely into hamburger, canned and processed meats.

Range cattle have sold as high as 30 cents a pound in periods of meat shortage. During this year's drouth the price has dropped to nine and 10 cents a pound. The price of hamburger hasn't come down by any such proportion. This is one of the main reasons why an investigation of middlemen's margins seems in order.

Drouth Forced Sale of Large Stocks of Cattle

The drop in range-cattle prices this year has of course been due to forced selling of herds in the drouth areas. Having no grass and water, stockmen had to sell for whatever they could get.

As a result of this forced liquidation, the total number of U. S. cattle next Jan. 1 may be just about the same as it was last Jan. 1. Secretary Benson puts this number at 94 million head.

Fewer cattle on the range means a meat supply more in balance with total U. S. meat demand. But with U. S. population increasing at the rate of two million a year, and with U. S. per capita consumption of meat now at a high of nearly 75 pounds a year, the total demand for meat is bound to go up.

This situation means a stabilized and probably higher prices for meat next year. It also probably means a higher meat price for consumers. But in all this talk over meat prices, it is interesting to note there is no great concern for what the consumer pays.

The principal concern of the Department of Agriculture is in seeing that the farmer gets a fair, meaning a profitable price, for the meat animals he sells.

Question Often Heard Is Whether Facts Catch Up With Smears to Erase Latter

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 21—When a man is smeared by a congressional committee, do the facts actually catch up and erase the smear?

This is a question often debated here in Washington, and the best answer is that, if a man is considered innocent until proved guilty, the American public will hesitate to condemn a man on mere accusations and will await the final verdict.

Having stated the general attitude toward such cases, the question now arises whether the "Americans for Democratic Action" and the Senate Subcommittee on Elections, which did a "smear" job on Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin with innuendoes of guilt, will now undo the damage they both did and distribute as widely the latest official information which exonerates him from violation of any federal laws.

For the Department of Justice, through a letter written by Attorney General Brownell, now declares that the criminal division has reviewed the charges enumerated by a Senate subcommittee but on which the committee itself refused to pass judgment. The Senate subcommittee said only that it was transmitting the report to the attorney general "for such consideration as may be within the jurisdiction and the responsibility" of the Department of Justice. The attorney general now says he has examined the report to see if any federal offenses had been committed. He states:

"Thes report fails to show the commission of any such offenses. The subcommittee spent a great deal of time, effort and money in its investigations made prior to the preparation of the report and there is no reason to believe that new evidence would be forthcoming from further investigation."

So the attorney general declares there is no reason to pass the data on to the grand jury. He adds that any other questions relating to income taxes would have to be passed upon by the Treasury Department. Everybody knows that the treasury under the Truman administration had access to the same facts about the Wisconsin senator's tax returns and found nothing on which to base any accusation. So it is logical to infer that the treasury, which rarely discusses anybody's income-tax returns unless there is an irregularity involving fraud, will consider the Truman administration's judgment to be final.

The attorney general took occasion also to write a letter disposing of charges of law violation in the Maryland senatorial election of 1950. He declared that "all further lines of inquiry, as suggested by the report, have been exhaustively followed, and additional investigatigative leads pursued," and it is "our conclusion that the evidence fails to establish the commission of any public offense defined by federal statute."

How far will this exoneration get with the critics of Senator McCarthy, especially those who have insisted in other cases that they believe in considering a man innocent of crime until proved guilty? Perhaps some of them will argue that the Wisconsin senator has himself accused other people through his legislative inquiries. But, despite all the furor about harm to innocent persons who have been accused of having Communist connections, not a single case has ever been proved against the Wisconsin senator of bringing anybody before his committee who had not in some way been mixed up with Communist organizations. The extent of this association, however, when met with frankness by the witness has brought no public condemnation. Those who have used the fifth amendment to refuse to testify or those in government service whose cases have been acted on adversely by loyalty review boards have been the object of criticism. It must be noted also that in virtually every case, even those not dismissed, there was a basis for questioning Communist connections or sympathies, and these cases are usually not publicized at all.

Conceding, on the other hand, that the Wisconsin senator may have made some mistakes in certain instances, two wrongs do not make a single right, and it will be interesting to see whether the distribution of copies of charges against Senator McCarthy by the "Americans for Democratic Action" will be followed now by the distribution by this organization of an equal number of copies of the letters of exoneration from the Department of Justice.

Maybe if this is done, it will have a salutary effect on all extremists and produce an era of better feeling on the subject of congressional inquiries. For, if the harm done can be offset by proper corrective measures exonerating the innocent, there will be a greater concentration on getting at the really guilty.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

If President Eisenhower has the moral decency and the moral courage to attack the racketeers who have been preying on "labor" ever since Roosevelt gave them the signal, he can drive through one of the greatest reforms in our history.

Some freak of psychology has dramatized the wickedness and greed of the American Federation of Labor. Let the CIO stew in its evil juice a while. The CIO is weak and, if anyone says it doesn't use common criminals, the answer is that Philip Murray plucked out of all the multitude of men available for the highest office of the CIO on the West coast a low-lived wife-beater and burglar with a multiple criminal record named Tim Flynn, of Worcester, Mass.

Murray could not have chosen a worse specimen of the vermin who have been attracted to the union rackets as rats are drawn to a garbage-dump. And he chose Tim Flynn with the sure instinct of an eye-rolling mountebank who had the blasphemous gall to make a speech comparing his own paltry megrims to the Passion of Jesus Christ. He planted Flynn on the West coast with headquarters in San Francisco as successor to Harry Bridges simply because Bridges supported the candidate of his own choice in the 1948 campaign. Bridges backed Bubblehead Wallace. In fine, Murray set up the principle that any American who becomes a member of the CIO forfeits his right to personal political decision.

The list of visitors to the cell of Joe Fay, a convicted traitor to the sacred "cause of labor," at Sing Sing presents many facts which President Ike could exploit to start a salutary reform.

In 19442, two crooks were indicted in the Federal Court in Albany for robbing workers on a War Department building "project," by the abuse of their powers as agents of Local 106 of the Operating Engineers' Union. They were Tom and John McGraw, father and son. This, of sourse, was Fay's own union. He was "international" vice president, president of a local under the patronage of the Hague-New Deal corruption in New Jersey, and a magnate in a large way of business providing heavy machinery for contractors on big war plant excavations. These McGraws were hoodlum politicians of the Democratic machine in Albany. It should be noted that the AF of L crooks were Democrats then with few exceptions. The Republicans, who have been caught in the current swirl occasioned by the murder of Tommy Lewis and the harness-track rackets wherever the David Harums cluck, are mostly freshmen in the racket.

In 1942, Thurman Arnold was messing around as assistant attorney general in the Department of Justice, pawing at flagrant but well-protected political concessions granted by the Roosevelt administration, with a program of prosecution that mostly came to nothing. He got some convictions, but most of them were reversed. The reversals included the fantastic teamsters' case where the Supreme Court held that when a highway robber climbed onto a truck at the Jersey City mouth of the tunnel to New York, demanding $10 to let the truck proceed, he became an employe just by saying "I want to drive your truck through the tunnel." Even if he were drunk or didn't know how to drive, he became an employe in the eyes of the Supreme Court, entitled to his pay if he just said: "I want the job."

Thurman's peregrinations took him to Albany where he got an indictment against Tom and John McGraw and two other bums under the anti-kick-back law. All four were connected with Local 106. Thomas F. McGraw was the big shot and John had a city job as "stationary engineer" in the Bureau of Streets.

These McGraws and the other two bums apparently got either bad advice or cold feet because they all pleaded "guilty" and paid $10,000, each. That was a dumb mistake because a few months later some kindred bums in a similar case stood trial, lost, appealed and won out.

John now runs a saloon and

Can Cut Off Water

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 21 (AP)—The Greenwich Water Co., with only 65 day water supply, got permission yesterday to cut off service to customers who use water wastefully. The permission was granted by the State Public Utilities Commission following an emergency meeting here with Greenwich town officials and water company representatives, as a result of an autumn drouth. The company said it supplies 16,500 customers in Greenwich, Port Chester, N. Y., and Rye, N. Y.

William R. Connole, attorney for the company, said the firm will advise its customers of the necessary restrictions, including lawn watering and automobile washing.

Ran Out of Gas

Moberly, Mo., Oct. 21 (AP)—Sheriff Amos Magruder and Deputy Joe Moore, cruising northwest of Moberly, ran out of gas. They tried to radio Moberly police for help, but reception was bad and all the dispatcher heard was "this is an emergency." That brought other deputies and state patrolmen racing to the area from as far as 20 miles away. The emergency call really wasn't much help after all, though, because no one took the sheriff any gasoline. Deputy Moore walked two miles to get the fuel.

Program Change Made

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Veterans' Administration yesterday announced a major change in its dental care program which will greatly limit the free treatment now given to veterans. A VA spokesman said the new change is likely to cut off about 35 per cent of all the free treatment. Recently about 40,000 veterans a month have been applying for dental work. The new change allows most veterans to get free treatment only once for a dental condition directly traceable to their military service.

125 Persons Back Fire District for West Camp-Malden

With 125 signers already obtained on a petition and with many more promised, indications were today that the move to establish a fire district for the West Camp and Malden area would be successful.

Edward Kolls, a member of the proposed fire district committee, said today that about 175 persons attended the special hearing on Tuesday night at Bigelow's Hall in Malden and said that interest was keen for the fire district movement.

When the complete list of signers is reached, the petition will be forwarded to the town board, it was announced.

Among the speakers were Lawrence Carroll of Malden, the Rev. Henry M. Schumann and Supervisor Peter Williams. Charles Teetsel, temporary chairman, presided.

Also working with Kolls and Teetsel on the committee to establish the fire district are William Campbell, Peter Smith, Albert Cawein and Bernard Bennett.

Honesty in Arkansas

Jacksonville, Ark. (AP)—A train roared down the tracks near here leaving a trail of swirling fluttering dollar bills. Seems a mail pouch had ripped open and $20,000 worth of bills spilled along the right of way. In the succeeding treasure hunts the folks were honest beyond belief. The Federal Reserve Bank in Little Rock, to which the bills were being shipped, reported almost complete recovery of the fly-away money.

Program of Renovation At High Falls Hotel

The Rock Cliff House, a landmark for 60 years at High Falls, has been taken over by Mr. and Mrs. William S. Quick, who are carrying out a program of renovation and redecoration.

The hotel, the original part of which is known to have existed at least as early of 1894, has been in the Quick family since 1897, when the late William D. Quick became its proprietor. The building was enlarged and operated continuously by him until his death about four years ago, when a daughter, Miss Marguerite Quick, took over. In February of this year Marguerite's brother, William S. Quick, and his wife became the proprietors.

The building contains 11 guest rooms in addition to a dining room, lounge, tap room and cocktail lounge. Meals have been served by appointment and the hotel has catered to banquets and other groups.

The hotel's already extensive collection of antiques, which include items given the first Mr. Quick as wedding presents, has been augmented through the years, and among the most recent have been a number of antique lamps added by the present proprietor's wife.

Honesty in Arkansas

Jacksonville, Ark. (AP)—A train roared down the tracks near here leaving a trail of swirling fluttering dollar bills. Seems a mail pouch had ripped open and $20,000 worth of bills spilled along the right of way. In the succeeding treasure hunts the folks were honest beyond belief. The Federal Reserve Bank in Little Rock, to which the bills were being shipped, reported almost complete recovery of the fly-away money.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church To Conduct Clothing Drive

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, 355 Hasbrouck avenue, is participating in the nationwide Thanksgiving Clothing Appeal for the relief of suffering peoples throughout the world, it was announced today by the Rev. Lars H. Lillestolen, pastor.

The drive, which will be conducted November 16-28, is sponsored by The Lutheran World Relief under the banner, Let Your Clothing Speak for Christ.

The Rev. Mr. Lillestolen pointed out that "gifts of clothing both save lives and effectively testify to our love for our compassionate Lord."

Increasing Awareness

It was pointed out by the Lydian Guild of the local church, sponsor of the appeal, that last year Lutherans of America responded with enthusiasm and contributed more than two million pounds of clothing at Thanksgiving time, a new high for the drive and an indication of increasing awareness of the importance of the gifts overseas.

Conditions in a number of countries in Europe and Asia make another strong appeal for clothing necessary, it was announced. "Our brethren in predominately Lutheran East Germany live under steadily deteriorating circumstances. Those who do flee to the west usually must come empty-handed. In Korea the cessation of hostilities should bring more opportunities for serving the millions who have endured so much suffering. In Jordan and Syria refugees in their tent camps and caves and hovels sorely need that which we have to share."

Relief Totals $57,000,000

The Lutheran World Relief is known as the "material aid arm" of the Lutheran World Action which, in turn, is the financial backbone of world-wide Lutheran cooperation in mission fields, aid to persecuted churches behind the Iron Curtain and to refugees. The Lutheran church is one of more than 10,000 affiliated with the eight Lutheran church-bodies participating in the National Lutheran Council, the agency which supervises the gathering end distribution of Lutheran World Action funds. The local church is also affiliated with the Lutheran World Federation, representing 51,0000,000 Lutherans in 52 churches around the world.

Total Lutheran World Action and Lutheran World Relief gifts contributed nationaly since 1940 exceed $57,000,000. More than $34,000,000 of this amount has been contributed in cash while the used clothing, shoes, food and other material given to Lutheran World Relief has been valued at over $23,000,000.

All the funds have been used for emergency activities of the Lutheran Church at home and 67 countries abroad, the major share to provide spiritual and physical relief in war-ravaged countries around the world. The goods given to Lutheran World Relief have been distributed to the needy in 24 countries.

Party and Contest To Be Held Oct. 31

Woodstock, Oct. 20—The schedule of events for the pumpkin head contest and Halloween party to be given by the Woodstock Girl Scouts for children of the township was announced by Mrs. Leo Herbert, community chairman, at the adult Girl Scout committee meeting Monday night. The party, which will climax activities in celebration of Girl Scout week, will be held Saturday, Oct. 31, commencing with a pumpkin head contest at 4 p. m. on the grounds of the Woodstock Candelier. At 7 p. m. the children in costume will meet at Maple Lane (alongside the Rudolph Galleries) and march to the town hall where a program of entertainment will be given followed by refreshments.

Any child who carves and decorates his own pumpkin head may enter it in the contest at the Candelier grounds. Judging will begin promptly at 4 p. m. with Mrs. Lorenz B. Stowell and Allan Sloan serving as judges. Nine prizes, one to the winner of each grade, kindergarten through the eighth, will be awarded later at the town hall.

Following the parade through the village, which will start promptly at 7 p. m., a cartoon movie, Beaver Valley, will be shown at the town hall and a program of magic will be given by Woodstock's popular prestidigitator, Dr. Benjamin Pressman. Refreshments will be served by the members of Troop 74 under the leadership of Mrs. Theodore Lee.

Girl Scout Week

Girl Scout week will be observed commencing Sunday, Oct. 25, with a Girl Scout's Own ceremony at the Kingston High School. Girl Scouts and Brownies from Woodstock will leave by bus from the village green at 2 p. m. The members of Troop 74 have prepared a pantomime skit to be presented during the program. In further observance of the week the members of all Girl Scout and Brownie troops have been asked to wear their uniforms from October 25 through the 31st.

Mrs. Charles Rapp, leader of Troop 12, reported on the newly formed Girl Scout library which is now in operation at the school. She was empowered by the committee to buy books and records for the library. Books on nature study and other subjects related to scouting will also be gratefully accepted.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. C. J. Van Rijn and the treasurer's report by Mrs. Hans J. Cohn.

Karl Fortess Show Reviewed by Tribune

Woodstock, Oct. 20 — "In the new exhibition at the Ganso Gallery, New York, Karl Fortess, artist of Woodstock, faces up to the issue of whether realism is to have any serious part at all in the affairs of art by showing landscapes of directness and vitality," according to Carlyle Burrows, art critic of the New York Herald Tribune, in the Sunday art section.

"Work such as Grey Day, with sharp lighting and deep and natural colors, and Black Dell, showing somber tree forms overshadowing lesser detail, are characteristic of his present trend. Nieuw Amsterdam, with a cross-section of elements is more symbolical, as are pictures of sentinel-like trees and rural bilboards typical of earlier and fanciful years. Fortess, for us, makes greater progress with nature than with fantasy, though atmosphere has a major role in his painting. To his advantage also are increasing rich color and better, freer painting, as in the romantic The White Wall."

Mandel Show to Open

Woodstock, Oct. 20—A one-man show of paintings by Howard Mandel will open Sunday, Nov. 1, at the Ganso Gallery, 125 East 57th street, New York. All of the 16 canvases are recent paintings created during the artist's stay in France, Italy and Spain during the last two years under a Fulbright grant.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Oct. 20—Dr. Hans J. Cohn will attend the Medical Society Assembly in New York on October 26, 27 and 28.

Mrs. Jerry Jerominek, who is recuperating from a foot injury will close her beauty shop in the village until November 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gallaher, of Wantagh, L. I., and their two daughters visited Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Watson last weekend. Mrs. Gallaher is Mrs. Watson's sister.

Mrs. Hazel Park has been ill at her home for a week.

Will Increase Tuition

Ithaca, Oct. 21 (AP)—Cornell University says it will increase tuition by $50 a year in most divisions after this academic year. President Dean W. Malott said last night the move was necessitated by a sustained rise in operating costs. Under the new schedule, tuition will be $750 a year in the colleges and schools of architecture, arts and sciences, business and public administration, engineer, hotel administration, law, the graduate school and the division of unclassified students.

As Pegler Sees It

steak-house in a rough section of Albany. His brother, Tom, Jr., a battalion chief of the Albany Fire Department, said he drove either his father or his brother, John, down to Sing Sing to call on the elite. The list which has been furnished the public indicates it was brother John. There is another son, Danny, a fine, clean boy like his father before him, who is now financial secretary and assistant business agent of Local 106.

Old Tom never lost his poise, still less his power in Local 106, but Johnno seems to have phased out as they say in the State Department. He easily could have a whole sheaf of AF of L charters in his saloon, however, because, on past performances, he is an ideal AF of L man.

The anti-kick-back law is the one that is humorously supposed to punish the likes of Tom and Johnno for extorting so-much-a-day from a working stiff for the privilege of working for the national defense. These four bums were supposed to have swiped $50,000 so they were still $10,000 in front after they paid their fines. But from other sources they could have stolen ten times $50,000 in the busy jurisdiction of Local 106.

The Old Banana Oil

Some years back I did a column in which I oracled that society would come to a dead stop without a little banana oil to grease the wheels. Well, yesterday at lunch I heard a story which backs up this two-for-a-nickel observation. It came about this way . . .

I was finishing my coffee at Sardi's when an old-time actor I'm going to call Ernie Harrison stopped by to say hello.

"How's tricks?" I said.

"Can't complain," said Ernie. "I'm on TV two or three times a month and I'm talking to the Theatre Guild about a play they're planning to do. In the meantime, my wife and I are taking it easy up in Westport."

"Isn't it pretty expensive up there?" I said.

"Not really," said the actor. "We own the house we live in and Effie is an awfully good manager. As for keeping up with the Joneses, we've worked out a little system which makes the neighbors think we're rolling in money."

"What system is that?"

"It's an innocent enough bluff," said Ernie. "Several times a month one of the big Fifth avenue stores sends a truck up to the house and drops off a bunch of fancy packages. In a town like Westport where women spend a good part of the day at their windows, that kind of show makes a big impression."

"How about the bills at the end of the month?"

"Well, as you know," said Ernie, "a department store only bills you for the stuff you keep. So, before the month's up, we return most of the packages. Our system is to keep the little ones and send back the big ones. The neighbors, of course, never pay any attention to what goes out of a house."

"Don't the stores kick about so many returns?"

"Very seldom," said the actor. "With the exception of one close call, our system has worked like a charm."

"Tell me about the close call," I said, wigwagging the waiter for more coffee.

"It happened last winter," said Ernie, "when the missus bought herself a $3,500 mink coat."

"Using 'The System'?"

"Naturally," said the actor. "The coat was a beauty and for several days, Effie had a lot of fun showing it off to her friends. The close call came a week later when she refused to send it back. Said she was crazy about the coat and besides, there'd be a lot of talk if she stopped wearing it. I tried to argue, but you know how it is when a woman meets up with a mink."

"You might have sneaked it back when she wasn't looking," I said.

"That's what I was planning to do," said the actor, "but the way it turned out, it wasn't necessary."

"Santa Claus come down the chimney?"

"In a manner of speaking," said Ernie. "A couple of nights after the argument, Effie wore the coat to a party out on Long Island, and during the evening a burglar got into the clothes closet and stole all the furs."

"How did that help?" I asked.

"Fortunately," said the actor, "our host carried plenty of burglary insurance, and when I presented the bill and proved it was a new coat, the company gave me a check for the full amount."

"And everybody lived happily ever after," I said.

"That's about it," said Ernie. "My wife was happy—she didn't have to do any explaining because the neighbors knew the coat had been stolen. The store was happy—I paid them the $3,500. And I was happy—my credit rating was better than ever."

"Nice going," I said. "Glad to hear the old banana oil is still working."

"Don't know what I'd do without it," said the actor. "Matter of fact, I'm meeting Effie over on Fifth Avenue later, and we're having the same store send out a grand piano."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Be a Judge! Give Your Answer Here

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Twenty-odd years ago, the most brilliant bridge player in the world was Sidney S. Lenz, and the most interesting bridge column was the weekly article he did for the humorous magazine Judge.

I read his column and worked on his famous double-dummy problems when I was a boy, and it made me very proud when he asked me to be his partner in the match against the Culbertsons in the winter of 1931.

Today, after 20 years of absence, the humorous magazine Judge once more appears, and once more it will include a brilliant bridge column written by a friend of mine.

This time the columnist is Alfred Sheinwold, who starts off with a bang by presenting a double-dummy problem each week with prizes for the correct solvers.

The hand shown in my column today is one of the most famous problems ever constructed by Sidney Lenz for the Judge problem contests of 20 years ago, and will give you an idea of the kind of problems that Sheinwold will feature. West leads the queen of clubs, and South is supposed to make seven hearts (that is, take all the tricks) against any possible defense. If you like double-dummy problems, try it before you read on.

Double-Dummy Problem

South is the declarer at a contract of seven hearts. West leads the queen of clubs, and South must make 13 tricks against any possible defense.

Dummy wins the first trick with the king of clubs, South discarding a diamond. North next leads the ace of clubs, and East has three choices.

If East ruffs (the weakest defense), South overruffs, cashes the ace of spades and leads the queen of spades to ruff out West's king. One more trump finesse through East establishes the rest of the South hand.

If East discards a spade on the ace of clubs, South ruffs. South cashes the ace of spades and leads the queen of spades through to ruff out the king. Dummy returns a trump for a finesse, and South cashes the rest of the spades. South gets to dummy with a diamond to ruff another club and returns to dummy with another diamond. Any lead now picks up East's trumps. (This line of play is called a double-trump coup.)

If East discards a diamond on the ace of clubs, South discards a spade, takes a trump finesse, and gets back to dummy with a diamond for a second trump finesse. South then leads out all the trumps, discarding (first) three low clubs from dummy. West must keep two spades, or South makes the queen and jack of spades; and West must keep one club, or dummy makes two low clubs. Hence West must discard diamonds, and dummy takes two diamonds to squeeze West again. (This line of play is a continuing squeeze.)

Whistling is unladylike in public, but around the house it's a good practice for toning the lips.

Insult to Injury

Ottawa, Kan. (AP)—In his many years as a cafe operator, Bruce Allison has come across numerous "lunchers"—persons who carry their own lunch into an eating place and merely order a cup of coffee. So he wasn't too surprised when two women sat down in a booth and unwrapped lunches. But a short time later, Allison noticed steam coming from the booth. He investigated. The women calmly were brewing their own coffee with a canned heat percolator.

Stiff Necked Turkey

Childress, Tex. (AP)—A careless turkey came up with a stiff neck recently and presented a problem. He couldn't eat during feeding time. Owner Grady Gilliland of childress hustled the hungry bird off to a veterinarian. It was a stiff neck, all right. The veterinarian removed a stiff weed stalk, 11¼ inches long, from the turkey's neck. Everything is all right now.

Effect of Diet Tonight's Topic For Weight Class

"Eating a diet which will protect health and yet result in a loss of weight" is the topic to be considered at the fifth meeting of the Weight Reduction Class tonight at the George Washington School. Miss Beatrice Watcke, nutritionist of the State Health Department, will meet with the group and will show the film Weight Reduction Through Diet. Among other points she will stress the importance of eating three meals regularly every day, and of restricting caloric intake while eating foods rich in minerals, vitamins and proteins.

At last week's meeting H. B. Lang, M.D., psychiatrist of Albany, spoke on the emotional aspects of reducing. Dr. Lang discussed the close correlation between loss of interests, habits, etc., and the tendency to gain weight. Among other factors he stressed the effects of loneliness and boredom on obesity, showing that obesity may be due to both internal and external causes.

90 Pounds Are Lost

At the close of the third meeting the group leaders announced the weight loss among the 40 members in attendance totalled 90 pounds for that period.

On Oct. 28 a round table panel will discuss exercise, relaxation, posture and the importance of medical supervision. Panelists will include Mrs. Tecla Meinhardt, Miss Phyllis Bulgatz, Miss Dolores Filardi, Mrs. Gladys Millonig and Miss Mary Mossman.

This nine-week class in weight control is sponsored by the Heart Committee of the Ulster County TB and Health Association.

Shokan, Oct. 20—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neuman of Watchung, N. J., were callers in the hub of the reservoir country Saturday. News of the sudden death Sunday morning of Frank Roosa, an old and respected resident of the Olive Bridge section, came as a great shock to his friends in this part of Olive. Frank, who was 70, moved from his old stone farmhouse along the Acorn Hill road in 1911 to become farmer for Jules Breuchaud, one of the contractors for the Ashokan Reservoir. He was an ardent horseman from boy hood and owned many good harness and saddle horses. I., spent Saturday at the Loos summer home along the Ridge road.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garcia were recent guests of Capt. and Mrs. Frank Jackson of Ashokan. The couple's daughter, Alicia, is taking a college training course in Middletown in connection with her enrollment as a student nurse at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh.

Burton Rappleyea, interesting Mosquito Point, Greene county, reporter for the Examiner-Recorder, tells how a bear and two cubs raided the apiary of Weldon Banks, scattered six hives and even carried some of the supers up a steep hill into the woods. Frank Brundage of Arlington, N. J., called on friends here Sunday. Frank several years ago made his home for a time at the farmhouse of his brother, Earl, now the Ed Weiderspiel place on the mountain road.

Father said,

"Now you're a Wife,

Time you knew the Facts of Life...

"Never nag and never scold;
Always serve his beer ice cold;

"And most important, daughter mine,
Be sure the beer is Ballantine!

"Flavor, you know, that chill can't kill;
He'll call you a dear, indeed he will!"

"Chill it to your heart's content... it still brims with flavor!"

Ballantine is the beer you can serve cold as you like . . . without danger of flavor loss. That's because it's specially brewed . . . deep-brewed . . . to hold its fine, full flavor in the coldest part of your refrigerator. Serve Ballantine Beer at whatever temperature you like best; every glass just brims with flavor!

Beer is usually served at temperatures ranging from 35° to 42° Fahrenheit.

He added that high humidity and heavy dew in northern New York over the last several nights had combined to stall off the danger there.

Another spokesman for the department said the number of fires reported recently was below average for this time of year.

WALLKILL NEWS

Halloween Festivities To Be Held Oct. 31

Wallkill, Oct. 20—The Wallkill Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a Halloween parade and party on Saturday evening, Oct. 31, for the children of the community. The parade will start in the school parking lot at about 7 p. m. Floats will assemble in the parking space of the Wallkill National Bank and along Church street at about 6:30 p. m. to allow for judging beforehand.

The line of march will be as follows: Down Lavoletta and Main street from the school to Wallkill avenue, turn left at the Grand Union store, proceed on Wallkill avenue and Bona Venture to the front of the school.

This year a float contest with money awards will take the place of the window painting of the past years. If you enter the float contest, you may also enter the costume contest in the gym, if you do not win a prize in the float event. The floats may be individual or group and may demonstrate a story book, song, historical event, etc. There will be three divisions of floats—floats involving only one pupil, floats self-propelled, pushed or pulled by contestants and motorized floats.

Anyone entering is urged to register as soon as possible with John D. Gardiner.

WALLKILL NEWS

Halloween Festivities To Be Held Oct. 31

Wallkill, Oct. 20—The Wallkill Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a Halloween parade and party on Saturday evening, Oct. 31, for the children of the community. The parade will start in the school parking lot at about 7 p. m. Floats will assemble in the parking space of the Wallkill National Bank and along Church street at about 6:30 p. m. to allow for judging beforehand.

The line of march will be as follows: Down Lavoletta and Main street from the school to Wallkill avenue, turn left at the Grand Union store, proceed on Wallkill avenue and Bona Venture to the front of the school.

This year a float contest with money awards will take the place of the window painting of the past years. If you enter the float contest, you may also enter the costume contest in the gym, if you do not win a prize in the float event. The floats may be individual or group and may demonstrate a story book, song, historical event, etc. There will be three divisions of floats—floats involving only one pupil, floats self-propelled, pushed or pulled by contestants and motorized floats.

Anyone entering is urged to register as soon as possible with John D. Gardiner.

Prisma Opens Drive For Magazine Sales With Fashion Show

Yesterday morning Prisma Society of Kingston High School presented a fashion show in the KHS auditorum to an assembly of girls from all four years of high school.

This showing was the event marking the beginning of the annual magazine drive sponsored by Prisma Society. The fashions modeled by students were examples of the merchandise available as awards in the stores cooperating with the drive.

The drive is organized by home rooms with team captains plus a goal set up for each class in the school. The teams having the highest number of subscriptions gained from canvassing all neighborhoods in the city, receive gift certificates. In addition to the fashions, sporting goods are offered by Elston's and Potter Brothers.

Miss Barbara Chmura was commentator for the fashion display, with the Misses Joan Erena, Sandy Galate, Cynthia Haver, Barbara Davenport, Pat Giles, Nancy Ellsworth, Besy Rigby, Ann Schwalback, Pat Palen, Lillian Saccoman, Linda Motter and Faith Gersbeck modeling.

The Retailing II Class of Kingston High School is arranging a display of merchandise in the glass cases in the front corridor of the school in connection with the drive.

The main purpose of this selling campaign is to raise money to carry on the service work for which Prisma is known, as well as to send representatives to Europe and to sponsor a girl from another country for a year in the United States.

The young student who is staying in Kingston for a year and attending KHS through the sponsorship of Prisma Society is Miss Chloe Trantou, 18, from Greece. She is completing her senior year here.

In addition to these activities, Prisma also awards scholarships for further study. In June, the organization gave two scholarships of $350 each, and two of $100 each to deserving girls in the graduating class for use in college or the study of nursing.

The Misses Margaret Mullen and Anne Donovan, of the KHS faculty, were in charge of the fashion show. Faculty advisors on the project are headed by Mrs. W. Prisma Opens Drive For Magazine Sales With Fashion Show

Yesterday morning Prisma Society of Kingston High School presented a fashion show in the KHS auditorum to an assembly of girls from all four years of high school.

This showing was the event marking the beginning of the annual magazine drive sponsored by Prisma Society. The fashions modeled by students were examples of the merchandise available as awards in the stores cooperating with the drive.

The drive is organized by home rooms with team captains plus a goal set up for each class in the school. The teams having the highest number of subscriptions gained from canvassing all neighborhoods in the city, receive gift certificates. In addition to the fashions, sporting goods are offered by Elston's and Potter Brothers.

Miss Barbara Chmura was commentator for the fashion display, with the Misses Joan Erena, Sandy Galate, Cynthia Haver, Barbara Davenport, Pat Giles, Nancy Ellsworth, Besy Rigby, Ann Schwalback, Pat Palen, Lillian Saccoman, Linda Motter and Faith Gersbeck modeling.

The Retailing II Class of Kingston High School is arranging a display of merchandise in the glass cases in the front corridor of the school in connection with the drive.

The main purpose of this selling campaign is to raise money to carry on the service work for which Prisma is known, as well as to send representatives to Europe and to sponsor a girl from another country for a year in the United States.

The Misses Margaret Mullen and Anne Donovan, of the KHS faculty, were in charge of the fashion show. Faculty advisors on the project are headed by Mrs. W. Dorcas Members Hear History of Society At 40th Anniversary

The Dorcas Society of the Port Ewen Reformed Church observed its 40th anniversary at the church hall Tuesday, Oct. 13.

A banquet was served at 6:30 p. m. with 47 members and guests present. Miss Mary Polhemus was toastmistress, and led group singing.

Many of the past presidents of the organization were present and gave short reminiscences of their administrations. The minutes of the first meeting were read by Mrs. Ellsworth Doyle, the first secretary. An original poem, written for the occasion was read by the author, Miss Bertha Siebert.

Mrs. Frank White, who had the honor of having served the most terms as president, presented the four charter members in attendance with gifts. These members were Miss Cleon Ellsworth, and the Mmes. Ellsworth Doyle, Harry Houghtaling and Nellie Bigler. Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, who served for over 25 years as missionary treasurer, was honored with a gift in recognition of her services.

A history of the Dorcas Society, written by the late Mrs. C. H. Polhemus for its 25th anniversary, and a continuance of the history for the past 15 years was written and read by Miss Mary Polhemus. This history was in many respects a history of the activities of the village and showed a consistent growth of the financial and social success of the society and a continuous record of its service to the church and the community. Nostalgic expressions of the "good old days" in the production of amateur theatricals, house warmings, straw rides, shore parties, and sewing bees, brought forth pleasant reminiscences from the oldest members.

Of special interest and amusement was a display of mementoes, newspaper clippings, scripts and programs of amateur theatricals, snapshots and photographs of past activities of the Dorcas Society.

Following the anniversary observance was a program of games.

The committee arranging the banquet was composed of Mrs. Clifford Davis, Sr., chairman, and the Mmes. Frank White, Richard Terpening, Clark Bonesteel and Mary Polhemus.

Other members and guests attending were the Misses Margaret Christiana, Ella Jones, Helen Schryver, Bertha Siebert, Elizabeth Ellsworth, Emily Card, Cleon Ellsworth, and Florence Kruse.

Also present were the Mmes. John Groves, Martin Nilan, Harry Houghtaling, David Harris, Ellsworth Doyle, Edwin Cunningham, Arthur Windram, Roger Elmendorf, Phoebe Ostrander, Walter Van Steenburgh, Theresa Slater, Harry Christiana, Patrick Kane, Inez Lampman, Walter Hansen, Howland Murdock, Walter Schussler, Matilda Osborne, Florence Saqui, Adolph Mayer, Roscoe Elsworth, Lillian Walker, Clifford Davis, Jr., Willard Walker, Clifford Davis, Jr., Willard Walker, William Webster, Sr., Nellie Bigler, Richard Torrens, Edward McBroom, Harry Newton, Howard Sismilich, Harry Houghtaling, and Mrs. Raccich and Mrs. Lagendorf.

Mrs. Frank White, who had the honor of having served the most terms as president, presented the four charter members in attendance with gifts. These members were Miss Cleon Ellsworth, and the Mmes. Ellsworth Doyle, Harry Houghtaling and Nellie Bigler. Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth, who served for over 25 years as missionary treasurer, was honored with a gift in recognition of her services.

A history of the Dorcas Society, written by the late Mrs. C. H. Polhemus for its 25th anniversary, and a continuance of the history for the past 15 years was written and read by Miss Mary Polhemus. This history was in many respects a history of the activities of the village and showed a consistent growth of the financial and social success of the society and a continuous record of its service to the church and the community. Nostalgic expressions of the "good old days" in the production of amateur theatricals, house warmings, straw rides, shore parties, and sewing bees, brought forth pleasant reminiscences from the oldest members.

Of special interest and amusement was a display of mementoes, newspaper clippings, scripts and programs of amateur theatricals, snapshots and photographs of past activities of the Dorcas Society.

Following the anniversary observance was a program of games.

The committee arranging the banquet was composed of Mrs. Clifford Davis, Sr., chairman, and the Mmes. Frank White, Richard Terpening, Clark Bonesteel and Mary Polhemus.

Other members and guests attending were the Misses Margaret Christiana, Ella Jones, Helen Schryver, Bertha Siebert, Elizabeth Ellsworth, Emily Card, Cleon Ellsworth, and Florence Kruse.

Also present were the Mmes. John Groves, Martin Nilan, Harry Houghtaling, David Harris, Ellsworth Doyle, Edwin Cunningham, Arthur Windram, Roger Elmendorf, Phoebe Ostrander, Walter Van Steenburgh, Theresa Slater, Harry Christiana, Patrick Kane, Inez Lampman, Walter Hansen, Howland Murdock, Walter Schussler, Matilda Osborne, Florence Saqui, Adolph Mayer, Roscoe Elsworth, Lillian Walker, Clifford Davis, Jr., Willard Walker, Clifford Davis, Jr., Willard Walker, William Webster, Sr., Nellie Bigler, Richard Torrens, Edward McBroom, Harry Newton, Howard Sismilich, Harry Houghtaling, and Mrs. Raccich and Mrs. Lagendorf.

Good Taste Today

LENGTH OF VISIT IMPORTANT

Today a letter explains: "Last week my husband and I spent the weekend with friends who live in the suburbs. My husband has relatives who live not too far from these friends. As we hadn't seen these relatives for a long time and we don't get out that way often, we thought it would be a good idea to pay them a visit while we were in that vicinity, so Sunday after lunch we drove over to see them. We told our hosts of course where we were going and said we wouldn't be long. We were gone about an hour and when we returned our hostess seemed rather cool and I'm very much afraid she thinks we were rude for leaving while we were her guests. Were we wrong, Mrs. Post?

To explain to the hostess, "I think we really ought to go to say hello to Aunt Mary"; go and come back quickly would be quite all right. But staying an hour was not very courteous to your hostess.

Admitting New Member

Dear Mrs. Post: We are a group of six young married women who meet once a week at each other's houses. Sometimes we play cards, sometimes we sew or just sit around and talk. One of the young women members told me the other day that her sister-in-law mentioned that she would like to join the group and that she was thinking of asking her to the next meeting. Several of us know the sister-in-law, but only slightly, and do not think she would fit in with the group as she is several years older than most of us and is very stand-offish. How can we tell this member that we do not want her sister-in-law in the group without offending her, or the sister-in-law? Your help in this matter will be appreciated.

Answer: The thing to do is to invite her occasionally and see how you like her. Then if you find you like her very much, invite her to join and if not, stop asking her.

Sending Congratulations

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine has just adopted a baby which is only a few days old. Would it be proper to send her a printed card of congratulation such as the ones sent to new parents on the birth of a baby?

Answer: Certainly, why not?

Some readers write that they find the introducing of family and friends confusing. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-17, "Introductions," will be helpful. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Marines to Train Women Officers

Because of the increasing need for women officers, the U. S. Marine Corps is inaugurating a winter training program for women officer candidates. The class begins January 28, 1954.

Major Richard N. Aufmann, Albany marine corps recruiting station, who is in charge of interviewing women candidates for the traimning program in this area, said the class is known as the Marine Corps Women Officers Training Class. It consists of 12 weeks of special training designed to prepare the individual candidate for the responsible work she will have later on as a commissioned officer in the Corps.

Graduates of the Women Officers Training Class receive commissions as second lieutenants, U. S. Marine Corps. The winter session will be in addition to the established summer training program for women officer candidates.

Many Opportunities

"More and more exciting opportunities are being made available to qualified young women who want to become commissioned officers in the marine corps. That's because the Marine Corps has found vital roles in command and administrative duties for its women officers" said Major Aufmann.

Qualified young women who are recent college graduates are eligible to enroll in the winter WOTC class. Major Aufmann pointed out, however, the applications for the January class must be received by marine corps headquarters by December 15. Application blanks about the WOTC class are available at rooms 410-415, Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Albany post office building. Additional information is available at the Kingston Marine Corps Recruiting Office, Central Post Office.

Chinchillas Are Destroyed

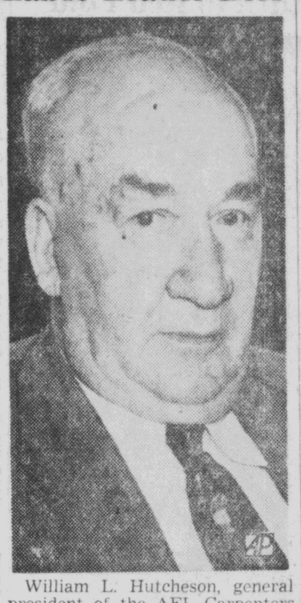

Chicago, Oct. 21 (AP)—Some 300 Chinchillas valued at an estimated $120,000 perished yesterday in a fire which destroyed the breeding and sales plant of the World Wide Chinchilla Ranch in Suburban Norwood Park. Ranch manager George Hogan, who made the estimate, said about 250 of the fur-bearing rodents were rescued from a basement but some died from the effects of smoke, water and fright.

His two-tone, black-and-white trade-ins are on display in the show window of an automobile dealer, who billed them as down payment on a truck for Chouiniere's farm in nearby Waterford. LENGTH OF VISIT IMPORTANT

Today a letter explains: "Last week my husband and I spent the weekend with friends who live in the suburbs. My husband has relatives who live not too far from these friends. As we hadn't seen these relatives for a long time and we don't get out that way often, we thought it would be a good idea to pay them a visit while we were in that vicinity, so Sunday after lunch we drove over to see them. We told our hosts of course where we were going and said we wouldn't be long. We were gone about an hour and when we returned our hostess seemed rather cool and I'm very much afraid she thinks we were rude for leaving while we were her guests. Were we wrong, Mrs. Post?

To explain to the hostess, "I think we really ought to go to say hello to Aunt Mary"; go and come back quickly would be quite all right. But staying an hour was not very courteous to your hostess.

Admitting New Member

Dear Mrs. Post: We are a group of six young married women who meet once a week at each other's houses. Sometimes we play cards, sometimes we sew or just sit around and talk. One of the young women members told me the other day that her sister-in-law mentioned that she would like to join the group and that she was thinking of asking her to the next meeting. Several of us know the sister-in-law, but only slightly, and do not think she would fit in with the group as she is several years older than most of us and is very stand-offish. How can we tell this member that we do not want her sister-in-law in the group without offending her, or the sister-in-law? Your help in this matter will be appreciated.

Answer: The thing to do is to invite her occasionally and see how you like her. Then if you find you like her very much, invite her to join and if not, stop asking her.

Sending Congratulations

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine has just adopted a baby which is only a few days old. Would it be proper to send her a printed card of congratulation such as the ones sent to new parents on the birth of a baby?

Answer: Certainly, why not?

Some readers write that they find the introducing of family and friends confusing. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-17, "Introductions," will be helpful. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Marines to Train Women Officers

Because of the increasing need for women officers, the U. S. Marine Corps is inaugurating a winter training program for women officer candidates. The class begins January 28, 1954.

Major Richard N. Aufmann, Albany marine corps recruiting station, who is in charge of interviewing women candidates for the trainning program in this area, said the class is known as the Marine Corps Women Officers Training Class. It consists of 12 weeks of special training designed to prepare the individual candidate for the responsible work she will have later on as a commissioned officer in the Corps.

Graduates of the Women Officers Training Class receive commissions as second lieutenants, U. S. Marine Corps. The winter session will be in addition to the established summer training program for women officer candidates.

Many Opportunities

"More and more exciting opportunities are being made available to qualified young women who want to become commissioned officers in the marine corps. That's because the Marine Corps has found vital roles in command and administrative duties for its women officers" said Major Aufmann.

Qualified young women who are recent college graduates are eligible to enroll in the winter WOTC class. Major Aufmann pointed out, however, the applications for the January class must be received by marine corps headquarters by December 15. Application blanks about the WOTC class are available at rooms 410-415, Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Albany post office building. Additional information is available at the Kingston Marine Corps Recruiting Office, Central Post Office.

North Koreans Return to Red Fold

An Indian officer, right, escorts a group of North Koreans to the exchange point at Panmunjom after the prisoners of war decided they wanted to return to the Communist fold. One of the group holds a North Korean flag. (AP Wirephoto by radio from Tokyo).

Dean Goes to Korea

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—Special envoy Arthur Dean leaves for Korea today to determine when, where and on what conditions the Far Eastern Communist powers are willing to negotiate about a Korean peace settlement. Secretary of State Dulles, having directed this "practical step" to sound out the Red Chinese and North Koreans, called on Moscow, meanwhile, for "revealing" evidence on what the Communist power overshadowing Europe intends to do concretely about a settlement there.

No One Desires Rain in This City

Horse Cave, Ky., Oct. 21 (AP)—Nobody prays for rain here. It could turn the community's biggest problem into a killer.

Officials have been seeking a solution for four years, but who wants 45,000 gallons of arsenic trichloride?

The chemicals, stored in large tanks along the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, were left behind after the Shaw Oil Co. closed its offices.

There were no complaints until last summer when leakeg from one tank killed vegetation in an area almost a mile wide. Startled residents in this community of 1,545 were told that moisture reacts on the chemicals by producing hydrochloric acid fumes and a worse by-product, arsenic oxide.

City Turned Down

The city tried to get rid of it but was turned down, even by the U. S. Defense Department in Washington which explained it could not help.

Only July 9, the county health board issued an ultimatum to the railroad and the oil company—get rid of the chemicals within six days. Nothing happened.

Both were indicted later on charges of maintaining a common nuisance but that was no help since the case is yet to be tried.

"We don't know what to do," says Mayor L. H. Vensel. "We've been safe enough in this dry weather, but we don't know what will happen if it ever rains."

There's no chance of that until the weekend when showers are predicted for the entire state.

Those showers would be a blessing to Kentucky's farmers, now caught in one of the worst drouths in history.

Indictment Returned

Newark, N. J., Oct. 21 (AP)—An indictment against a New York man was handed up yesterday by a new federal grand jury. Albert Shaw of Elmhurst, N. Y., was charged with failing to register a .45 caliber sub-machine gun with the local internal revenue collector's office.

No One Desires Rain in This City

Horse Cave, Ky., Oct. 21 (AP)—Nobody prays for rain here. It could turn the community's biggest problem into a killer.

Officials have been seeking a solution for four years, but who wants 45,000 gallons of arsenic trichloride?

The chemicals, stored in large tanks along the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, were left behind after the Shaw Oil Co. closed its offices.

There were no complaints until last summer when leakeg from one tank killed vegetation in an area almost a mile wide. Startled residents in this community of 1,545 were told that moisture reacts on the chemicals by producing hydrochloric acid fumes and a worse by-product, arsenic oxide.

City Turned Down

The city tried to get rid of it but was turned down, even by the U. S. Defense Department in Washington which explained it could not help.

Only July 9, the county health board issued an ultimatum to the railroad and the oil company—get rid of the chemicals within six days. Nothing happened.

Both were indicted later on charges of maintaining a common nuisance but that was no help since the case is yet to be tried.

"We don't know what to do," says Mayor L. H. Vensel. "We've been safe enough in this dry weather, but we don't know what will happen if it ever rains."

There's no chance of that until the weekend when showers are predicted for the entire state.

Those showers would be a blessing to Kentucky's farmers, now caught in one of the worst drouths in history.

Indictment Returned

Newark, N. J., Oct. 21 (AP)—An indictment against a New York man was handed up yesterday by a new federal grand jury. Albert Shaw of Elmhurst, N. Y., was charged with failing to register a .45 caliber sub-machine gun with the local internal revenue collector's office.

Dean Goes to Korea

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—Special envoy Arthur Dean leaves for Korea today to determine when, where and on what conditions the Far Eastern Communist powers are willing to negotiate about a Korean peace settlement. Secretary of State Dulles, having directed this "practical step" to sound out the Red Chinese and North Koreans, called on Moscow, meanwhile, for "revealing" evidence on what the Communist power overshadowing Europe intends to do concretely about a settlement there.

High School Line Hailed For Performance to Date

Has Yielded Less Than 40 Yards Per Game

While Kingston High's fifth straight football victory of the season appears to be a foregone conclusion Saturday at Valley Stream, L. I., Maroon supporters took time out today to pay tribute to the brilliant work of the 1953 varsity line.

Valley Stream, located in a beautiful sector of Long Island, is experiencing one of the worst cycles in its football history. Coach Don Holsapple's Streamers didn't win a game in 1952 and have dropped four straight this year.

Against that kind of opposition, it should be a relatively easy job to rack up No. 5 for Kingston. The Streamers came close against Hempstead High last Saturday, leading 7-6 until the final minute, when Hempstead scored a TD to win 12-7.

Opponents Smothered

While Orville Giles, Gene Massa and Charlie Johnson have commanded the headlines to date, a review of the game-by-game statistics of the Kingston defense reflects the tremendous performance of the Maroon forwards.

The 1953 stalwarts have the Russ Cunningham trademark written all over them. In four contests to date, they have yielded a net yardage of 163, or just slightly more than 40 per game. And there was no record kept of the Curtis High's minus yardage rushing so it's gross figure of 43 is included in the tabulation.

Bill Engle has been a sensational performer, probably the best lineman in the DUSO League, but his mates can all take a bow for their superb defenses.

Engle's supporting cast includes such worthies as Fred Jackson, Johnny Turck, Dick LeFevre, Bill Ritter, Bob Munson, Ray Gallo and Leroy Scheffer. All have been outstanding at one time or another and as a unit they have been noteworthy.

Highland finished with a net of 19 yards. Port Jervis shows the best record to date with 90 yards. Curtis' 43 yards rushing do not reflect any minus yardage and the Blue and White of Middletown High could pick up only 11 yards net through the Maroon forwards.

Big Tests Ahead

With the sterner part of the schedule looming ahead, this record is heartening to Kingston followers. After Valley Stream comes Lawrence, L. I. for a Nov. 7 date at municipal stadium. On Nov. 14 the "payoff" game with Poughkeepsie is scheduled at the Bridge City and the season's finale is the traditional Thanksgiving Day battle with Newburgh at municipal stadium.

Poughkeepsie is described as the best all-round team ever developed by Sam Kalloch. Any of the four backfield stars can pass and each is an adept receiver. Throwing up a defense against that type of offense is difficult for the average high school squad.

But a hard charging, mobile line is still the best defense against a passing attack. And when the Kingston forwards line up against their Poughkeepsie rivals in the infantry duel, Massa, Johnson and company will have an even chance, anyway you look at it.

Saturday's game at Valley Stream starts at 2 p. m. at Fireman's Field.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Harrassed by declining football fortunes and a static student population, Port Jervis High is rapidly approaching a point of no return with respect to its future in the DUSO League.

There is a loud but ominous silence on the subject of Port's departure from the predominantly Class A conference among the top brass at the Red and Black school.

But Ralph Frederick, the veteran scrivener who has died a thousand deaths watching the Port football dynasty crumble in recent years, did some thinking out loud a few days ago.

The portly scribe pointed out that Port Jervis this year faced one of the most difficult schedules in its history and the prospect of a Class B school taking beatings year after year frm Class A rivals was not relished in many quarters. For one, he asked his public: "What effect does the statement 'let's get out of the DUSO League' have on you?"

Let's examine the picture objectively. Frederick gives the impression that he does not favor dropping out of the league, but in the next paragraph points out state regulations enable Port Jervis to compete in Class B in the Section 9 basketball and track. It would seem, says Frederick, that a statewide movement soon will be launched to limit the number of interscholastic games on any school's schedule which can be played outside its own classification during each season.

The inference here is that, while Frederick would not protest too loudly against Port's quitting the DUSO, he is interested in maintaining the Turkey Day contest with Middletown High. This class is as steeped in tradition as the Kingston-NFA game.

Port Jervis High once was able to win its share of DUSO football titles but the city has not grown (at least not the student population) in comparison with Poughkeepsi, Newburgh, Kingston and Middletown. Population wise there is a feeling that the Red Raiders have been playing in the wrong league for years, and are facing more rugged opposition this season.

Unofficial estimates of student population in the DUSO football schools shows Kingston in front with a registration of 1800, but Coach G. Warren Kias points out that more than 750 of these are non-resident boys who compose only a fractional precentage of the athletic squads.

In round numbers, Newburgh Academy has 1400, Middletown about 1100, all figures representing steady growth over a period of years. Port Jervis, meanwhile, has been static in the 500-550 bracket for a long time. The Red Raiders are fighting a battle of attrition and are being engulfed by numbers, if nothing else.

In the days when a 500 registration was much closer to equality with rival schools than it is today, Port Jervis captured the DUSO football championships in 1924, 1925, 1928, 1938 and 1947. Those were the halcyon days of the Cuddebacks, the Orlandos, Fedorkas and others. In 1937 Coach Al Chase's Raiders involved in a triple tie with Newburgh and Middletown.

No one wants to win every game, neither do they want to see the student body loaded with defeatism. There should always be the desire to win a contest before each game. Sometimes during the past few years Frederick recalls Port teams that were on the threshold of admitting defeat before the opening whistle. This is a situation that places a coach in an awkward position.

Kingston and Poughkeepsie contributed indirectly to the pessimism and defeatism now rampant at Port Jervis. Dick Beams and Johnny Lord, two of Port's best players, were rendered hors de combat in the Kingston game. Joe Lane, the only first class back left in the Port lineup, was racked up and kayoed for the season last Saturday at Poughkeepsie. It was a grim struggle with these three worthies in the lineup. Without them the road ahead is almost hopeless.

Port Jervis won't pull out of the DUSO League this year, or maybe next. But another season like this one and the end could come quicker than most folks suspect.

Giants Win Again Over Jap Nine, 8-1

Sapporo, Hokkaido, Japan, Oct. 21 (AP) — The New York Giants shellacked their Tokyo baseball namesakes, 8-1 today in a steady drizzle before an overflow crowd of 20,000.

The visitors' 10 hits included Hank Thompson's home run in the seventh.

The Tokyo Giants went hitless against righthander Alan Worthington for seven innings. Lefty Monte Kennedy came on in the eighth and was socked for two hits and one run.

The National Leaguers jumped off to a four run lead in the first.

It was the fourth straight win for the New Yorkers, who have 10 more games to play. Tomorrow they face a combined team of Tokyo Giants and the Swallows, another Japanese professional team, at Sendai, about 250 miles north of Tokyo.

National League Gets Seven Places on Major All Stars

Illinois Back Threatens New College Mark

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—J. C. Caroline, Illinois sophomore is setting a ball carrying pace exceeded only once in the history of major college football.

Statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau revealed Caroline as the nation's top runner with 668 yards in four games for an average of 167 a game. Only San Francisco's Ollie Matson, who set the record of 174 a game as a senior in 1951, has done better. At the end of four games that season, Matson's average was 171.

But Matson wasn't playing in as fast company as the 20-year old from Columbia, S. C., who ripped off 142 yards against Nebraska, 129 against Stanford, 192 against Ohio State and 205 against Minnesota.

What's more, Caroline has carried the ball 80 times, a 20-per-game average that makes him the busiest as well as the most effective runner in the country. And his average of 8.35 yards per try is best among the frequent ball carriers.

He is 129 yards ahead of second place Dick Imer of Montana, who has played one more game, and 283 ahead of the nearest man with four games—eight place Bob Watkins of Ohio State, whose total is 383.

Sharon Rose Takes Roosevelt Feature

Yonkers, Oct. 21 (AP)—Sharon Rose, driven by Stanley Tweedie, came up with a rush through the stretch to win the $5,000 Concourse Pace at Yonkers' Grand Circuit meeting last night in 2:04.4.

It was the sixth win of 1953 in 18 starts for the five year old mare owned by Wales T. Flynt of Crawsfordsville, Ga. She returned $7.80, $3.60, and $2.90.

Finishing second three quarters of a length back was Casanova, driven by George Phalen. Third was taken by True Kitty, piloted by Earl Avery. True Kitty led for most of the race but wilted under the stretch drive exerted by Sharon Rose.

A five horse pilup, the second major spill of the fall meeting at Yonkers, occurred in the seventh race. All five horses nearest the rail rounding the stretch turn were involved in the collision.

Campanella Draws Biggest Vote

New York, Oct. 21 (AP) — Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's slugging catcher, heads the 1953 major league all-star team, one of the strongest squads ever put together.

Campanella, whose 41 home runs and 142 runs batted in are the highest ever reached by a big league catcher, drew all but five of the 179 votes returned by the Baseball Writers' Association of America in response to the Associated Press' eighth annual All-Star poll.

The team boasts seven .300 hitters including the two league batting champions, the RBI and slugging kings, a home run leader, four players who have hit 30 or more homers and five who have pounded home 100 or more runs.

National Pitchers

In the pitching department, the team presents Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies and Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves. Each won 23 games to tie for the most in the majors. Roberts, in beating Washington's Bob Porterfield for righthanded honors, received 132 votes to Porterfield's 30. Spahn easily topped Chicago's Billy Pierce for lefthanded honors 116 to 40.

Six of the 10 players are brand new. The four holdovers from the 1952 team include Phil Rizzuto, shortstop; Al Rosen, third base; Stan Musial, left field and Roberts. Musial made the squad for the seventh time, missing only once since the all-star team was inaugurated in 1946.

Scooter Only Yank

Surprisingly, the world champion Yankees placed only one man—Rizzuto—on the team while the Brooklyn Dodgers, whom they defeated in the World Series, placed three men. They are outfielders Duke Snider and Carl Furillo in addition to Campanella.

The St. Louis Cardinals were the only other club to have more than one representative on the National League dominated squad. Red Schoendienst walked off with second base honors with 163 votes, and Musial topped all outfielders with 142 votes., Schoendienst's total was second only to that of Campanella. The National placed seven men to the American's three.

The only close races were for first base and shortstop. Washington's Mickey Vernon, the American League batting king, defeated Brooklyn's Gil Hodges for first base honors, 73 to 57 votes. Rizzuto barely edged out Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers for the shortstop berth, 60 to 58.

Rosen emerged with a surprising 116 to 59 margin over Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee's home run champion.

The all-star team:

First Base
Mickey Vernon, Senators (.337)
Second Base
Red Schoendienst, Cardinals (.342)
Third Base
Al Rosen, Indians (.336)
Shortstop
Phil Rizzuto, Yankees (.271)

High School Line Hailed For Performance to Date

Has Yielded Less Than 40 Yards Per Game

While Kingston High's fifth straight football victory of the season appears to be a foregone conclusion Saturday at Valley Stream, L. I., Maroon supporters took time out today to pay tribute to the brilliant work of the 1953 varsity line.

Valley Stream, located in a beautiful sector of Long Island, is experiencing one of the worst cycles in its football history. Coach Don Holsapple's Streamers didn't win a game in 1952 and have dropped four straight this year.

Against that kind of opposition, it should be a relatively easy job to rack up No. 5 for Kingston. The Streamers came close against Hempstead High last Saturday, leading 7-6 until the final minute when Hempstead scored a TD to win 12-7.

Highland finished with a net of 19 yards. Port Jervis shows the best record to date with 90 yards. Curtis' 43 yards rushing do not reflect any minus yardage and the Blue and White of Middletown High could pick up only 11 yards net through the Maroon forwards.

Illinois Back Threatens New College Mark

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—J. C. Caroline, Illinois sophomore is setting a ball carrying pace exceeded only once in the history of major college football.

Statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau revealed Caroline as the nation's top runner with 668 yards in four games for an average of 167 a game. Only San Francisco's Ollie Matson, who set the record of 174 a game as a senior in 1951, has done better. At the end of four games that season, Matson's average was 171.

But Matson wasn't playing in as fast company as the 20-year old from Columbia, S. C., who ripped off 142 yards against Nebraska, 129 against Stanford, 192 against Ohio State and 205 against Minnesota.

What's more, Caroline has carried the ball 80 times, a 20-per-game average that makes him the busiest as well as the most effective runner in the country. And his average of 8.35 yards per try is best among the frequent ball carriers.

He is 129 yards ahead of second place Dick Imer of Montana, who has played one more game, and 285 ahead of the nearest man with four games—eight place Bob Watkins of Ohio State, whose total is 383.

Sharon Rose Takes Roosevelt Feature

Yonkers, Oct. 21 (AP)—Sharon Rose, driven by Stanley Tweedie, came up with a rush through the stretch to win the $5,000 Concourse Pace at Yonkers' Grand Circuit meeting last night in 2:04.4.

It was the sixth win of 1953 in 18 starts for the five year old mare owned by Wales T. Flynt of Crawsfordsville, Ga. She returned $7.80, $3.60, and $2.90.

Finishing second three quarters of a length back was Casanova, driven by George Phalen. Third was taken by True Kitty, piloted by Earl Avery. True Kitty led for most of the race but wilted under the stretch drive exerted by Sharon Rose.

A five horse pilup, the second major spill of the fall meeting at Yonkers, occurred in the seventh race. All five horses nearest the rail rounding the stretch turn were involved in the collision.

Campanella Draws Biggest Vote

New York, Oct. 21 (AP) — Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's slugging catcher, heads the 1953 major league all-star team, one of the strongest squads ever put together.

Campanella, whose 41 home runs and 142 runs batted in are the highest ever reached by a big league catcher, drew all but five of the 179 votes returned by the Baseball Writers' Association of America in response to the Associated Press' eighth annual All-Star poll.

The team boasts seven .300 hitters including the two league batting champions, the RBI and slugging kings, a home run leader, four players who have hit 30 or more homers and five who have pounded home 100 or more runs.

National Pitchers

In the pitching department, the team presents Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies and Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves. Each won 23 games to tie for the most in the majors. Roberts, in beating Washington's Bob Porterfield for righthanded honors, received 132 votes to Porterfield's 30. Spahn easily topped Chicago's Billy Pierce for lefthanded honors 116 to 40.

Six of the 10 players are brand new. The four holdovers from the 1952 team include Phil Rizzuto, shortstop; Al Rosen, third base; Stan Musial, left field and Roberts. Musial made the squad for the seventh time, missing only once since the all-star team was inaugurated in 1946.

Scooter Only Yank

Surprisingly, the world champion Yankees placed only one man—Rizzuto—on the team while the Brooklyn Dodgers, whom they defeated in the World Series, placed three men. They are outfielders Duke Snider and Carl Furillo in addition to Campanella.

The St. Louis Cardinals were the only other club to have more than one representative on the National League dominated squad. Red Schoendienst walked off with second base honors with 163 votes, and Musial topped all outfielders with 142 votes. Schoendienst's total was second only to that of Campanella. The National placed seven men to the American's three.

The only close races were for first base and shortstop. Washington's Mickey Vernon, the American League batting king, defeated Brooklyn's Gil Hodges for first base honors, 73 to 57 votes. Rizzuto barely edged out Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers for the shortstop berth, 60 to 58.

Rosen emerged with a surprising 116 to 59 margin over Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee's home run champion.

The all-star team:

First Base
Mickey Vernon, Senators (.337)
Second Base
Red Schoendienst, Cardinals (.342)
Third Base
Al Rosen, Indians (.336)
Shortstop
Phil Rizzuto, Yankees (.271)

Irish Lineman Best of Week

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Frank Varrichione, a husky 205-pound tackle for Notre Dame who contributed a key play in the Irish triumph over Pitt on Saturday, was picked today as the lineman of the week by the Associated Press.

The play that earned Frank the coveted weekly honor came in the third period. Pitt held a surprising 14-7 lead. After the kickoff a penalty shoved the Panthers back to their two. Bobby Epps tried to run the ball from behind his own goal line, but big Frank broke through and smeared the pitt player for a safety.

That gave Notre Dame two points and put the Irish in a position where a touchdown would put them ahead instead of merely tying. It was acknowledged as a key play as the Irish went on to a 23-14 victory.

Varrichione, a 21-year-old senior who attended Natick (Mass.) High School and Aquinas Institute in Rochester before entering Notre Dame, is the first tackle to gain linemen honors this year. On previous weeks two guards—Franklin Brooks of Georgia Tech and Milt Bohart of Washington—gained the nod.

Stanford Back Tops AP Poll

Palo Alto, Calif., Oct. 21 (AP)—Bob Garrett, Stanford T-quarterback whose spectacular passing to an upset win over strong UCLA last week earned him the Associated Press back of the week rating, would like to have a crack at professional football.

Off last week's performance, when Bob completed 18 of 27 passes for 196 yards, with 13 of 17 coming in three touchdown drives, it looks as though he could make the grade in the pro draft next winter.

One thing worries the 21-year-old, 190-pound senior—Uncle Sam may draft him before the pros. Bob has been a member of the Stanford air force ROTC unit.

Being named back of the week had its greatest satisfaction for Garrett in that it proved he wasn't washed out when he was injured near the end of last season. Many had predicted his grid career was over then.

But he underwent surgery for a shoulder separation on his left side and to have bone chips removed from his right passing arm. The results were demonstrated Saturday when he literally passed the favored UCLA team silly to win 21-20.

State to Set Deer Checks for Oct. 25 Opening

Albany, Oct. 21—The 25th of October will not only mark the opening of the 1953 deer season in the Adirondack area counties but will be a milestone for the game research men of the New York State Conservation Department—the tenth year of operation of the deer checking stations on main traffic routes in the North Country.

During the Adirondack deer season, the game technicians announce, the Conservation Department's check stations will be operated each weekend.

Pioneering in deer research work which reveloped the quick and accurate method of determining the age of deer through examination of their teeth, the Conservation Department's research men, with the cooperation of sportsmen, have been able to "take the pulse" of the deer herd in all sections of the state.

Information secured at these check stations gives a clear picture of the condition of the range where the deer were shot; tells the biologists the proportion of the deer herd carried over from one season to the next; whether the herd is in good balance and healthy—or weak and subject to winter starvation. Antler size is measured too and gives an added clue to deer range condition and whether the deer are developing normally.

Startling evidence has been found by such checks; the biologists reporting that in certain areas of the state—particularly in sections of the Adirondacks—50 per cent of the year and a half old bucks produce no antlers or their antlers are less than three inches long, while 100 per cent of the yearling bucks in sections of the state where the deer population has been held in balance with the food supply of their winter range, have antlers at least three inches long and a large proportion of these yearling bucks have three to eight point racks.

Irish Lineman Best of Week

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Frank Varrichione, a husky 205-pound tackle for Notre Dame who contributed a key play in the Irish triumph over Pitt on Saturday, was picked today as the lineman of the week by the Associated Press.

The play that earned Frank the coveted weekly honor came in the third period. Pitt held a surprising 14-7 lead. After the kickoff a penalty shoved the Panthers back to their two. Bobby Epps tried to run the ball from behind his own goal line, but big Frank broke through and smeared the pitt player for a safety.

That gave Notre Dame two points and put the Irish in a position where a touchdown would put them ahead instead of merely tying. It was acknowledged as a key play as the Irish went on to a 23-14 victory.

Varrichione, a 21-year-old senior who attended Natick (Mass.) High School and Aquinas Institute in Rochester before entering Notre Dame, is the first tackle to gain linemen honors this year. On previous weeks two guards—Franklin Brooks of Georgia Tech and Milt Bohart of Washington—gained the nod.

Stanford Back Tops AP Poll

Palo Alto, Calif., Oct. 21 (AP)—Bob Garrett, Stanford T-quarterback whose spectacular passing to an upset win over strong UCLA last week earned him the Associated Press back of the week rating, would like to have a crack at professional football.

Off last week's performance, when Bob completed 18 of 27 passes for 196 yards, with 13 of 17 coming in three touchdown drives, it looks as though he could make the grade in the pro draft next winter.

One thing worries the 21-year-old, 190-pound senior—Uncle Sam may draft him before the pros. Bob has been a member of the Stanford air force ROTC unit.

Being named back of the week had its greatest satisfaction for Garrett in that it proved he wasn't washed out when he was injured near the end of last season. Many had predicted his grid career was over then.

But he underwent surgery for a shoulder separation on his left side and to have bone chips removed from his right passing arm. The results were demonstrated Saturday when he literally passed the favored UCLA team silly to win 21-20.

State to Set Deer Checks for Oct. 25 Opening

Albany, Oct. 21—The 25th of October will not only mark the opening of the 1953 deer season in the Adirondack area counties but will be a milestone for the game research men of the New York State Conservation Department—the tenth year of operation of the deer checking stations on main traffic routes in the North Country.

During the Adirondack deer season, the game technicians announce, the Conservation Department's check stations will be operated each weekend.

Pioneering in deer research work which reveloped the quick and accurate method of determining the age of deer through examination of their teeth, the Conservation Department's research men, with the cooperation of sportsmen, have been able to "take the pulse" of the deer herd in all sections of the state.

Information secured at these check stations gives a clear picture of the condition of the range where the deer were shot; tells the biologists the proportion of the deer herd carried over from one season to the next; whether the herd is in good balance and healthy,—or weak and subject to winter starvation. Antler size is measured too and gives an added clue to deer range condition and whether the deer are developing normally.

Startling evidence has been found by such checks; the biologists reporting that in certain areas of the state—particularly in sections of the Adirondacks—50 per cent of the year and a half old bucks produce no antlers or their antlers are less than three inches long, while 100 per cent of the yearling bucks in sections of the state where the deer population has been held in balance with the food supply of their winter range, have antlers at least three inches long and a large proportion of these yearling bucks have three to eight point racks.

Turpin Arrives for Title Bout

Back of the Week

Stanford quarterback Bob Garrett has been chosen The Associated Press back of the week for his spectacular play in leading the Indians to a 21-20 victory over previously unbeaten UCLA last Saturday.

BLOW HARD—It takes a lot of wind to get an oom-pah out of the bass horn Myra Seaborn, Coffeyville (Kans.) College student, is trying out. The horn is an object of interest in the classroom of William Sears, new director of instrumental music at the college. He acquired it after confiscation by American armed forces in Germany during World War II. The horn, manufactured in Innsbruck, Austria, was played by a member of the Nazi Youth Organization band prior to war.

Pfeiffer Dinner Talk of Top Two; Troast Will Talk

Albany, Oct. 21 (AP)—State Republicans gave former chairman William L. Pfeiffer a testimonial dinner last night, but most of the table talk concerned two men who weren't there.

Gov. Dewey was ill in bed with laryngitis. Acting Lt. Gov. Arthur H. Wicks had sent regrets earlier.

The toastmaster, Sen. Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, spoke warmly of Pfeiffer who resigned last month to devote full time to business interests.

But Mahoney had no comment on the dispute between Dewey and Wicks over the Kingston Senate leader's prison visits to extortionist Joseph Fay.

The 375 top Republicans present, including 12 state senators, compared views privately on how the Senate will vote next month on Wicks' promised resignation as majority leader and temporary president.

Resignation Demanded

Dewey demanded Wicks' immediate resignation Oct. 12 on the ground he had embarrassed the administration and the party by visiting Fay in Sing Sing.

Wicks refused but said he would let the Senate judges his "fitness." Dewey then called the Legislature into special session Nov. 17.

Wicks took to the air Sunday to repeat his view that he had done nothing wrong in visiting Fay, and that he had done so only to help prevent labor troubles in his district.

A mixup prevented telecasting of Wicks' filmed speech at the scheduled time Sunday, although WNBT in New York city carried it later that day.

Upstate TV stations were unable to fit it in Sunday and the National Broadcasting Co. reaired the speech last night over seven stations.

Troast Takes to Air

Newark, N. J., Oct. 21 (AP)—Paul L. Troast, Republican candidate for governor, canceled all speaking engagements today except one—a special television appearance to explain why he wrote the Fay letter.

Twice in his intensive tour of Essex county yesterday Troast asked his audiences to watch the program at 7:15 p. m. over WNBT, New York, in which he said he would discuss "at length" the letter that has become a central issue in the New Jersey campaign.

Troast wrote to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York in 1951, asking executive clemency for Joseph Fay, New Jersey labor official, serving a long prison term for shaking down contractors in New York.

When the existence of the letter was disclosed more than two weeks ago, Democratic candidate Rober B. Meyner immediately made it one of his main talking points against Troast. He said it showed Troast unfit to be governor.

Troast said he wrote the letter as an "act of mercy" and had known Fay for a number of years —Troast as head of a big contracting business and Fay as an elected official of AFL building trades unions.

Never Saw Him Dishonest

In all that time, Troast told Dewey, he had never known Fay to be dishonest in his dealings. He added that he could not understand some of the testimony that led to Fay's conviction for extortion.

Last week Troast said he had explained his letter over and over again, considered it a closed incident, and wanted to get on with the campaign.

But since then he has again brought up the Fay letter several times, as Meyner continued to attack him, and finally the special 15-minute TV shot was arranged.

Another important political figure, Acting Lt. Gov. Arthur Wicks of New York, took to television recently to explain his visits to Fay in Sing Sing.

It is believed that chow dogs were first developed for their meat and fur.

Turpin Arrives for Title Bout

Britain's Randy Turpin, left, accompanied by his trainer, Frank Alger, arrives in New York hotel from Grossinger, where he has been in training for his world middleweight title bout against Carl (Bobo) Olson in New York's Madison Square Garden Oct. 21.

Back of the Week

Stanford quarterback Bob Garrett has been chosen The Associated Press back of the week for his spectacular play in leading the Indians to a 21-20 victory over previously unbeaten UCLA last Saturday.

The 10-foot-long alphorn of Switzerland, a shepherd's instrument, can be heard for six miles.

More than 821,000 tons of cargo were carried in 1952 by the Military Sea Transport Service.

BLOW HARD—It takes a lot of wind to get an oom-pah out of the bass horn Myra Seaborn, Coffeyville (Kans.) College student, is trying out. The horn is an object of interest in the classroom of William Sears, new director of instrumental music at the college. He acquired it after confiscation by American armed forces in Germany during World War II. The horn, manufactured in Innsbruck, Austria, was played by a member of the Nazi Youth Organization band prior to war.

Pfeiffer Dinner Talk of Top Two; Troast Will Talk

Albany, Oct. 21 (AP)—State Republicans gave former chairman William L. Pfeiffer a testimonial dinner last night, but most of the table talk concerned two men who weren't there.

Gov. Dewey was ill in bed with laryngitis. Acting Lt. Gov. Arthur H. Wicks had sent regrets earlier.

The toastmaster, Sen. Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, spoke warmly of Pfeiffer who resigned last month to devote full time to business interests.

But Mahoney had no comment on the dispute between Dewey and Wicks over the Kingston Senate leader's prison visits to extortionist Joseph Fay.

The 375 top Republicans present, including 12 state senators, compared views privately on how the Senate will vote next month on Wicks' promised resignation as majority leader and temporary president.

Resignation Demanded

Dewey demanded Wicks' immediate resignation Oct. 12 on the ground he had embarrassed the administration and the party by visiting Fay in Sing Sing.

Wicks refused but said he would let the Senate judges his "fitness." Dewey then called the Legislature into special session Nov. 17.

Wicks took to the air Sunday to repeat his view that he had done nothing wrong in visiting Fay, and that he had done so only to help prevent labor troubles in his district.

A mixup prevented telecasting of Wicks' filmed speech at the scheduled time Sunday, although WNBT in New York city carried it later that day.

Upstate TV stations were unable to fit it in Sunday and the National Broadcasting Co. re-aired the speech last night over seven stations.

Troast Takes to Air

Newark, N. J., Oct. 21 (AP)—Paul L. Troast, Republican candidate for governor, canceled all speaking engagements today except one—a special television appearance to explain why he wrote the Fay letter.

Twice in his intensive tour of Essex county yesterday Troast asked his audiences to watch the program at 7:15 p. m. over WNBT, New York, in which he said he would discuss "at length" the letter that has become a central issue in the New Jersey campaign.

Troast wrote to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York in 1951, asking executive clemency for Joseph Fay, New Jersey labor official, serving a long prison term for shaking down contractors in New York.

When the existence of the letter was disclosed more than two weeks ago, Democratic candidate Rober B. Meyner immediately made it one of his main talking points against Troast. He said it showed Troast unfit to be governor.

Troast said he wrote the letter as an "act of mercy" and had known Fay for a number of years —Troast as head of a big contracting business and Fay as an elected official of AFL building trades unions.

Never Saw Him Dishonest

In all that time, Troast told Dewey, he had never known Fay to be dishonest in his dealings. He added that he could not understand some of the testimony that led to Fay's conviction for extortion.

Last week Troast said he had explained his letter over and over again, considered it a closed incident, and wanted to get on with the campaign.

But since then he has again brought up the Fay letter several times, as Meyner continued to attack him, and finally the special 15-minute TV shot was arranged.

Another important political figure, Acting Lt. Gov. Arthur Wicks of New York, took to television recently to explain his visits to Fay in Sing Sing.

It is believed that chow dogs were first developed for their meat and fur.

Local GI Prefers Army Life Over Time Clock Duty

I like my feet on the ground so I can dig a hole if I have to," said James L. Dickerson, 28 Henry street, who chose the army to reenlist in rather than the air force, this week at the Albany Army and Air Force Recruiting Main Station.

In and out of the service three times ever since he joined in 1942. Dickerson is finally convinced that civilian life is just one long grind. "I've had my fill of punching time clocks for the last time," he said. "From now on you can say that I'll be a soldier without a single gripe. Just hand me a uniform, but save the ammunition."

Wounded in Germany

Attached to the 26th Division with an anti-aircraft unit during World War 2, the 31-year-old reenlistee was wounded in action in Germany and was awarded the Purple Heart. He was honorably discharged in 1945, and returned to a civilian job with a construction company.

Out of uniform for two years he reenlisted again in 1947 with a direct assignment for military escort duty for returning the bodies of men killed in the war. He was stationed at the Schenectady Army Service Unit.

In 1949 he applied for overseas duty and was sent to Vienna, Austria. With the Armed Forces Radio Service in Vienna, as chief studio engineer he was promoted to staff sergeant. Returned to stateside duty he was again discharged in 1951.

Dull Out of Uniform

"I decided to give civilian life another fling," he said, "but after 10 months I knew where my high road was. It's a dull world out of uniform."

Dickerson wears a baseball uniform with the same familiarity as he does an Army uniform. He played in the outfield with the Chez Emile for two years.

Basic training again? Not for Dickerson. He'll take a refresher course and then to an assignment.
